New School Building Receives 'Finishing

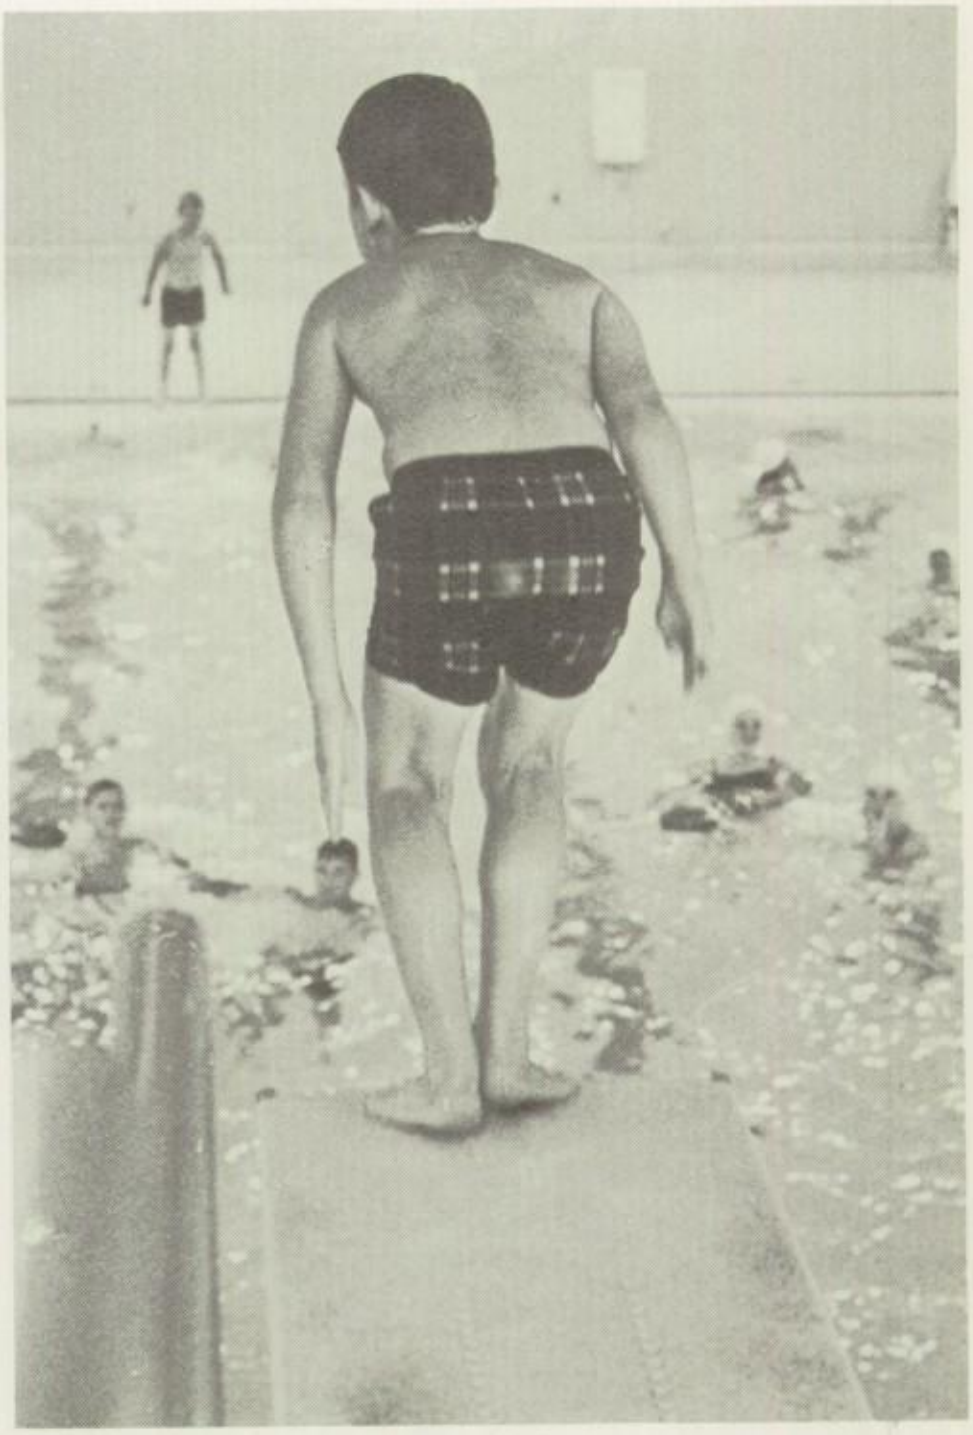
HARD AT WORK installing the new bleachers in the gymnasium, a workman connects the braces to a supporting structure.



NEEDED ENCOURAGEMENT is shouted to this youngster as he makes his first dive. Children of all ages used the pool during the summer.

IN MEMORY of Miss Virginia Davis, three plaques, the Mythological Fates, decorate the entrance to the auditorium.

Touches' During Morton's Second Year

HAMMERING AWAY at a parking lot sign is Secretary of Safety, J. Grasha. The addition of the signs was an Association project.

During the second year of Morton's existence, all of the rooms of the new school were complete. Students no longer stumbled over workmen, wires and boxes.

One of the long-awaited "final touches" was the second set of gymnasium bleachers. The school received them in late February after basketball season.

Signs were placed in the parking lot during the fall which directed students and faculty to the proper parking spot. This was an Association project.

Three plaques that depicted the three mythological fates were added to the entrance of the auditorium. On April 12 the plaques were dedicated to Miss Virgina Davis, a Morton English teacher who passed away last year after teaching 38 years. Mrs. Lee Schillereff of Illinois sculpted the memorial.

For the first time this year Morton's swimming pool was open at night to children of all ages and adults. Swimmers had to be residents of Hammond.

Students who participated in the dramatic productions utilized the Green Room which is located below the Auditorium stage. This year the room, a combination make-up, costume and dressing room, was decorated with the framed programs of past plays.

AS CURTAIN TIME APPROACHES, preparations are made in the green room, a make-up area below the stage.

Homecoming Activities Generate Spirit;

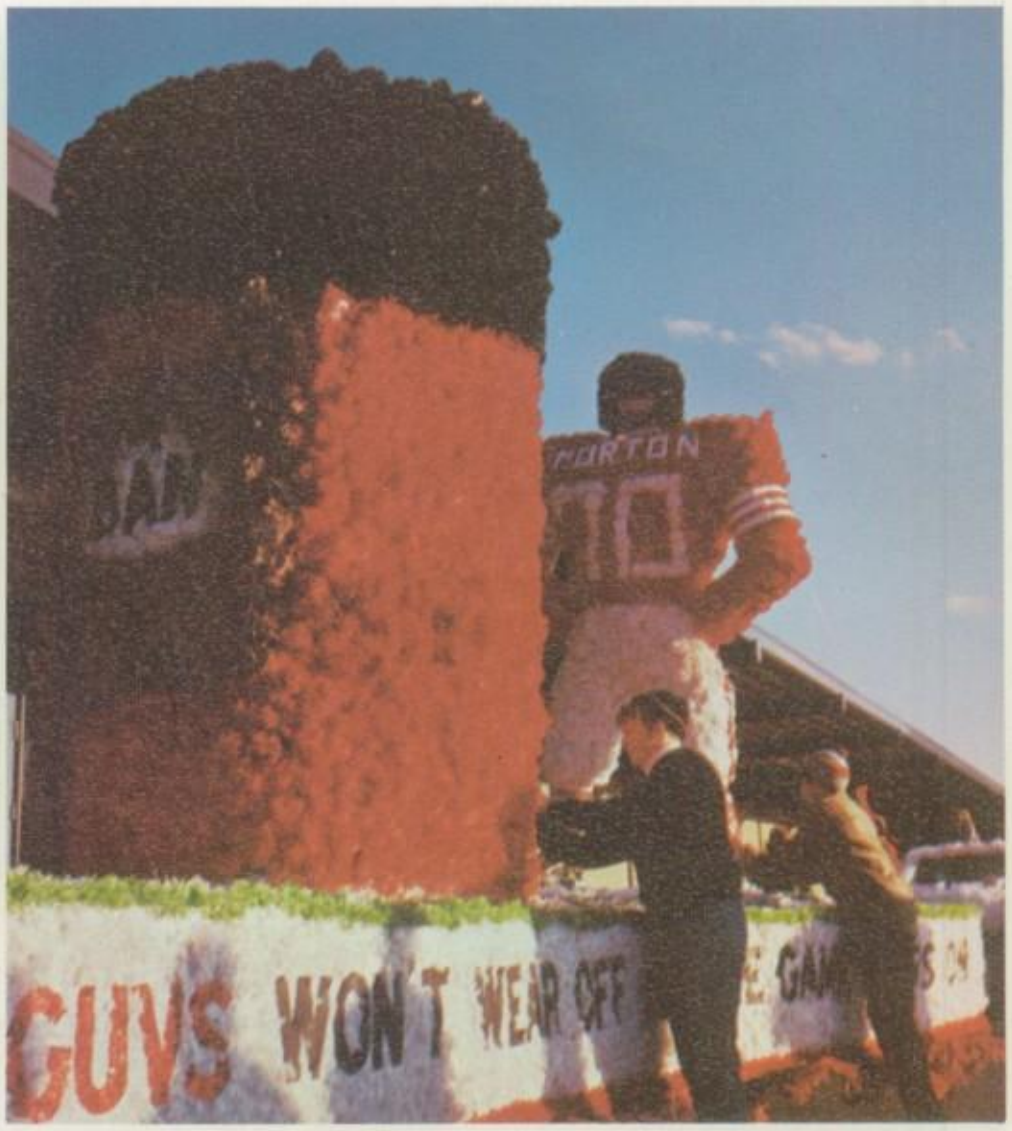
STUNNED BY SURPRISE when announced 1968 Homecoming Queen is Jan Rogowski, escorted by senior George Kostoff. She was selected from five candidates.



JUNIOR FLOAT, "Guvs Won't Wear Off as the Game Wears On," receives last minute preparations from D. King and K. Brennan before the parade.

COLORFUL ARRAY of decorated cars and floats border the Morton parking lot and anticipate the homecoming parade's commencement.

The sophomore car, covered with white flowers and topped with a gold Aladdin's lamp, won first place for the best decorated car.

Floats, Cars Produce Class Competition

Decorated floats, cars, a new queen and the traditional parade are all a part of the memory of the 1968 homecoming festivities. The annual affair was conducted on the evening of Friday, October 18.

Presentation of the Homecoming Court and the announcement of the 1968-69 queen comprised the halftime activities of the football game against Gavit. Each of the five queen candidates was escorted down the football field and presented to the crowd by a senior boy. The Association President then announced the name of the 1968-69 queen to the spectators. She was awarded a bouquet of red roses and a crown and reigned over the homecoming dance held in the cafeteria.

Two floats and cars from homerooms and school clubs composed the parade. Led by a car containing the assistant principal and mayor, the parade began at Morton's parking lot and continued on the route through the neighborhood before returning to Morton.

Constructing plans, designing paper flowers and meeting after school hours went into the preparation of the junior and senior floats. The theme of the senior float, "Skunk 'Em," was portrayed by a huge black skunk which ejected smoke from its tail. "Guvs Won't Wear Off as the Game Wears On," the theme of the junior float, was depicted by a towering football player and a simulated can of "Ban" deodorant. The cars were decorated with flowers and crepe paper.

BATON AFLAME, senior Mary Ann Stryzinski demonstrates coordination and agility with a difficult manuever.

WINNING FLOAT, "Skunk 'Em," emits jets of smoke and reveals '69 under a tail of paper flowers.

Homecoming Half-Time Includes Queen

Highlighting the '68-'69 homecoming festivities was the crowning of the queen. Candidates were escorted down the field to "The Girl Watcher's Theme."

Candidate Carole Cornelison was active in Pom Pons and Y-Teens. She was also an Association representative and a member of National Honor Society.

Varsity cheerleading and Governaires kept Candidate Cynthia Kaufman busy. She was also vice-president of Booster Club and an Honor Society member.

Candidate Laura Luketic was active in Carillons and varsity cheerleading. She was also a member of the Association cabinet and TOP HAT staff.

Varsity cheerleading and TOP HAT were among the interests of Candidate Jo Rybicki. She was also a member of Booster Club and Government Club.

Queen Jan Rogowski was a member of the Association cabinet and History Club. Her duties also included secretary of Booster Club and captain of Pom Pons.

HOLDING A BOUQUET of roses, Miss Jan Rogowski reigns over the evening dance as the 1968-1969 Homecoming Queen.

'Carnival' Dominates Dramatic Season

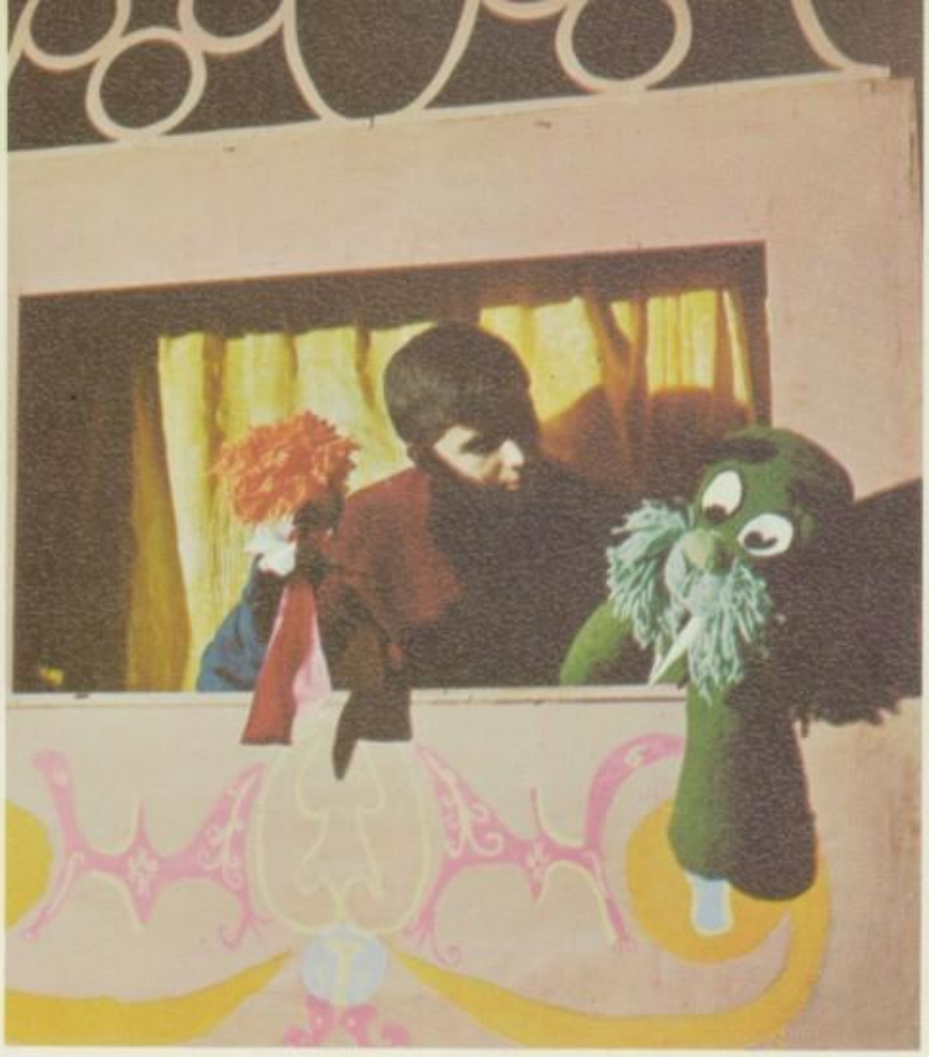
Excitement, anticipation and weeks of work for both the Theater and Music Departments were climaxed on the night of April 21, 1969, the date of the debut of the spring musical, CARNIVAL. The production, presented in the Morton auditorium, was the heart-warming story of a young, naive girl, Lili, who joins a lively carnival. Through her experiences with Paul, a bitter, despondent puppeteer, she learns that there is more to life than just love and happiness, that hate and malevolence also exist in the world.

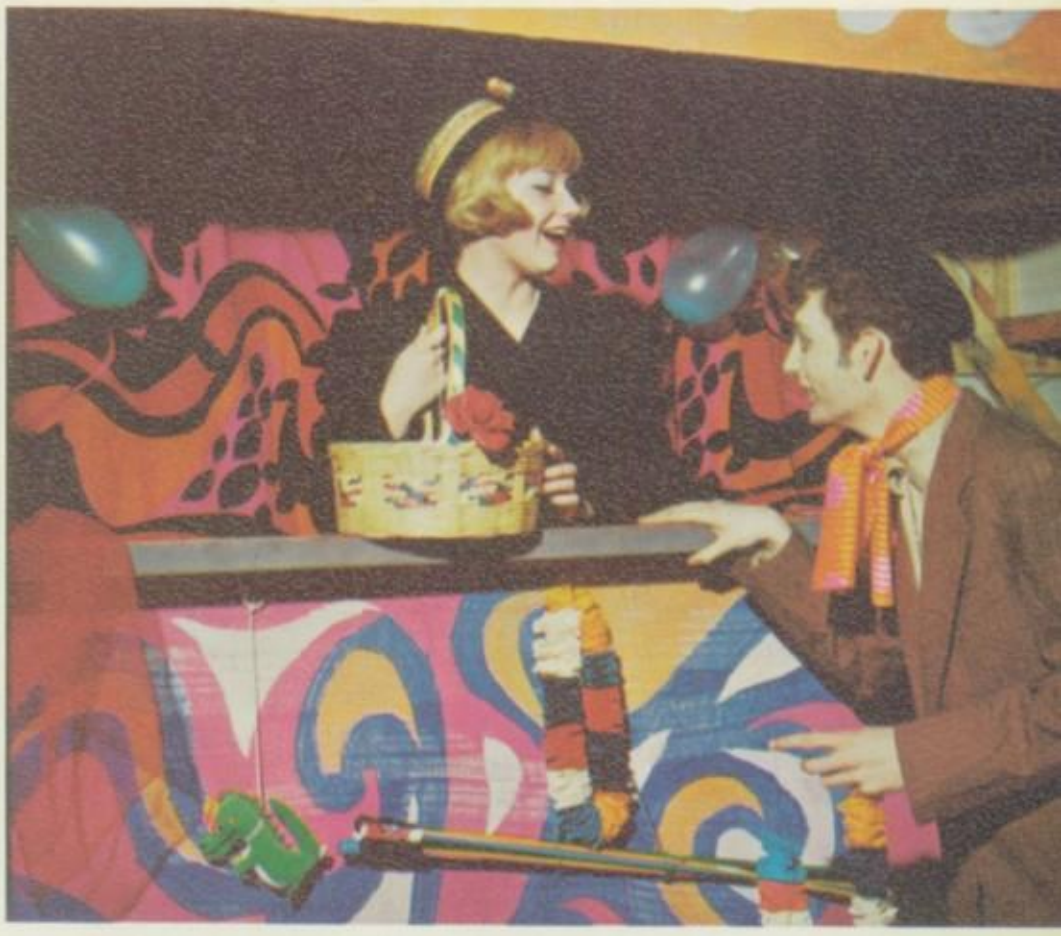
In addition to CARNIVAL, the Top Hat Theatre presented three other productions and three one-act plays. Under the direction of Mr. Donn Edwards, aspiring thespians presented THE WIZARD OF OZ, TRUDI AND THE MINSTREL and CYRANO DE BERGERAC. Production of THE WIZARD OF OZ, sponsored by the Pi Epsilon Kappa Alpha Gamma Chapter, benefited Boys' Town. The one-act plays, "Dust of the Road," "Supressed Desires" and "Riders to the Sea" were presented on Jan. 18. Directed by students, they provided an opportunity to exhibit leadership, creativity, performing and directing techniques.

CLUSTERING TOGETHER in the land of the trolls, Bill Hopf, Jeff Payonk and David Keil secretly plan a conniving scheme for capturing the unselfish heart of Peter Pumperknickel.

AFTER A FRIENDLY WELCOME to Oz, munchkins (P. Balog, R. Lynch, J. Stojan) become friends of Dorothy (K. Brewer) and Toto (R. Sharpe).



SIDE-SHOW PERFORMANCE in the Cirque de Paris Carnival is rehearsed by Paul, the puppeteer, (Jim Grasha) as he chats with his unusual puppets, Carrot Top and Horrible Henry.



ENTHRALLED BY CARNIVAL ATMOSPHERE and impressed by the souvenirs, Lili (Laura Lundquist) discusses the possibility of obtaining a job in the troupe with vendor Grobert (Dennis McGregor).

ENGAGED IN DANCE, the Bluebird Girls (Jane Usinger, Anna Polochak, Rosemary Biscan and Cheryl Tonkovich) and Roustabouts (Bob Wells, Mike Davey and Ed Sharpe) join in a lively flourish of executions in the "Cirque de Paris." Schlegel (Mark Patai) directs attention toward his "Carnival" dancers as sad clown (Ron Zgunda) contemplates the excitement of performing in Paris.

Unusual Activities Part of Student Life

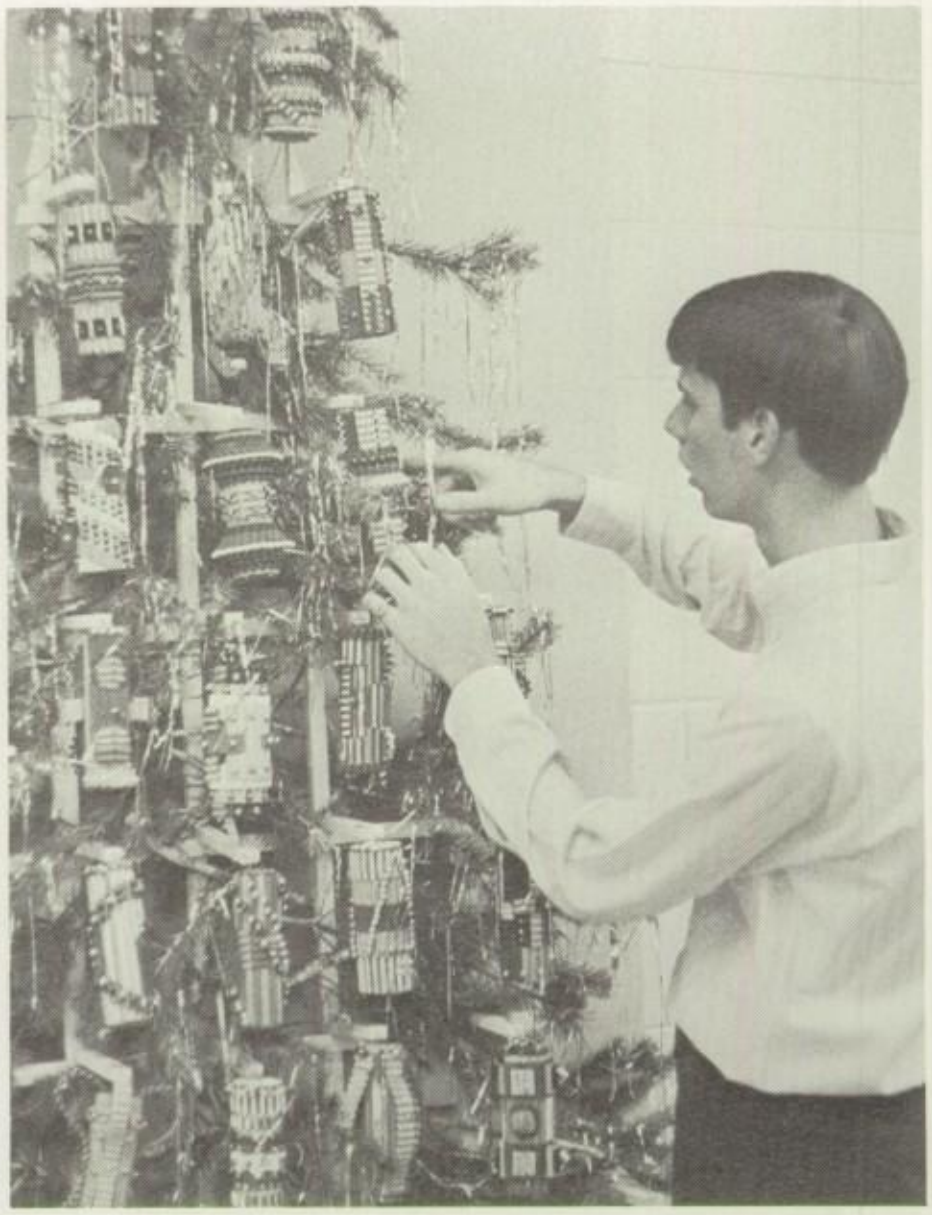
This year unusual circumstances added to the ever-changing student life. During the hot spring months the classrooms were uncomfortable and, in order to keep cool, the faculty discovered the solution—teaching classes outside or on the stairways.

New and different ways of filling leisure time in school were introduced. Besides studying in the library during their lunch-studies, students went to the Commons where they could relax and play games of chess. Some went to the gymnasium and played ping-pong. Other pupils took a stroll in the open courtyard. During the early fall a television was set up in the small auditorium so that students and faculty could watch the World Series during their free hours.

Many assemblies were staged in the auditorium. Some contained vital information concerning health, careers and auto safety. Other assemblies were presented to raise money while entertaining students.

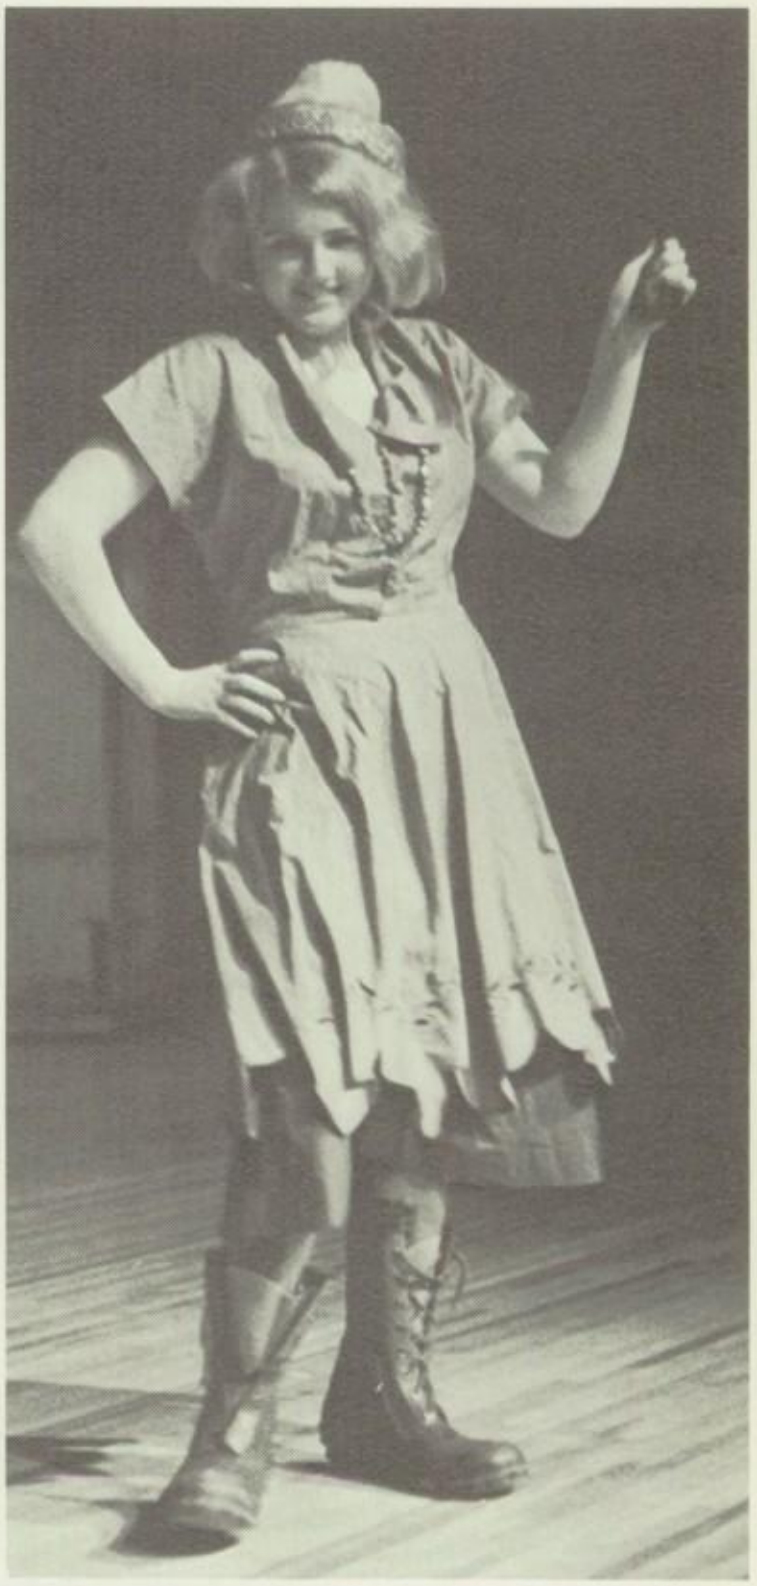
During Christmas time members of the Art Club constructed ornaments and set up a wooden framework for a tree. Located in the Student Commons, the large unique "tree" was supported on a huge sheet of cardboard and consisted of evergreen branches, colorfully decorated ornaments and silver tinsel.



CARDBOARD ORNAMENTS AND TINSEL are placed on the Student Commons Christmas tree by art student Mike Gralski.

LACK OF VENTILATION causes the transformation of a stairway into a classroom during a spring heat wave.

BASEBALL FANS attentively watch the World Series in the small auditorium. Students and teachers were able to view the games during the lunch periods.



BIZARRE ATTIRE helps Sandy Snyder entertain pupils at the Magazine Drive assembly. The Drive was established to prolong publication of the MORTONITE.

Oriental Setting, Lights, Romantic Music

TO BUY the perfect nosegay for their prom dates, Ken Kerrick and Mike Greene compare intended selections.

TRADITIONAL PROM MEMOIR is given to Mike Argadine from Mary Ann Verbick before the after-prom party, "Let's Go Oriental."

WHILE GLANCING over the bids for the prom, Kevin Kelly and Debbie Bindas look forward to a grand evening with Andrea Bandura and Rick Pumnea.

Create Mood for 'Far Eastern Fantasy'

Donning tuxedoes and colorful, floor-length gowns, students stepped out for an evening of fun at the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom on May 17, 1969. The cafeteria's and commons' oriental setting created the mood for the prom theme, "Far Eastern Fantasy." Murals of oriental painting and scrolls of Chinese writing garnished the walls. A life-size rickshaw was used as the background for the prom pictures. Placed in the center of the floor was a torii, a Japanese gateway, through which couples walked in the Grand March. Enveloped in the prom atmosphere, couples danced to the music of the Hal Morris Band from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the junior class parents, the After-Prom Party was held at San Remo Restaurant in Griffith. Continuing with the Far Eastern touch, the theme was "Let's Go Oriental." Decorations were furnished by San Remo's and party favors were given to all girls attending. Continuous entertainment was supplied by a combo, the Westminsters, and the Todd Family, a feature act. Beginning at 12 midnight, the dancing and dining came to a close at 4 a.m.

Concluding their prom weekend, students disregarded all previous formal attire. Clad in sportswear, they dispersed to Brookfield Zoo, Turkey Run and Indiana Dunes State Park the following Sunday morning.

ENTRANCED BY THE MUSIC of Hal Morris and his band at the annual Junior-Senior Prom are seniors J. Ziemba and C. Cornelison.

NOT AFRAID of the steady hand of Rudy Skorupa is a playful racoon. The friendship began the afternoon after the prom.

HASTENING TO BOARD the buses in front of the Capitol Building, students lose no time in continuing their tour of Washington.

READY TO RIDE through New York's Central Park are seniors Pam Good, Cathy Liming, Linda Hilty and Gail Lovin.

PAUSING IN COMMEMORATION before the Eternal Flame, Morton students pay homage at the grave site of President Kennedy. Visiting Arlington National Cemetery is part of the yearly Washington D.C.-New York City Trip.

CASUAL CONVERSATION between Lynn Allen and Louise Miera is exchanged over lunch while on the way to New York City.

Upperclassmen Take Yearly Excursion

All thoughts of school studies were abandoned by 104 students as they left on the annual Washington-New York excursion. They departed from Hammond on Tuesday, October 20, on the Erie-Lackawana train.

After some hectic moments of getting situated with luggage and hotel rooms, students took a night tour of their first stop, Washington, D.C. They viewed the main attractions such as the Lincoln and Washington Monuments. The Smithsonian Institute, the Wax Museum, Arlington Cemetery and the Library of Congress were visited. Students had an opportunity to tour the White House and the Capitol Building. While in Georgetown, a residential section of Washington, students saw many early American architectural styles such as Georgetown University and the Yellow House.

Following a four hour train ride the next day, students arrived in New York City. Their days consisted of the usual sightseeing, including the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building, Times Square and the United Nations Building. Saturday night, students saw "The Rockettes" in Radio City and a first-run movie, "Bullit." During the final hours of their Eastern trip, they were allowed to venture out on their own to explore places of interest to them.

FINDING DELIGHT in sharing their ice cream cone upon leaving the Statue of Liberty Ferry are juniors Flo Metz and Marsha Hunt.

Students Utilize Leisure Time Partaking

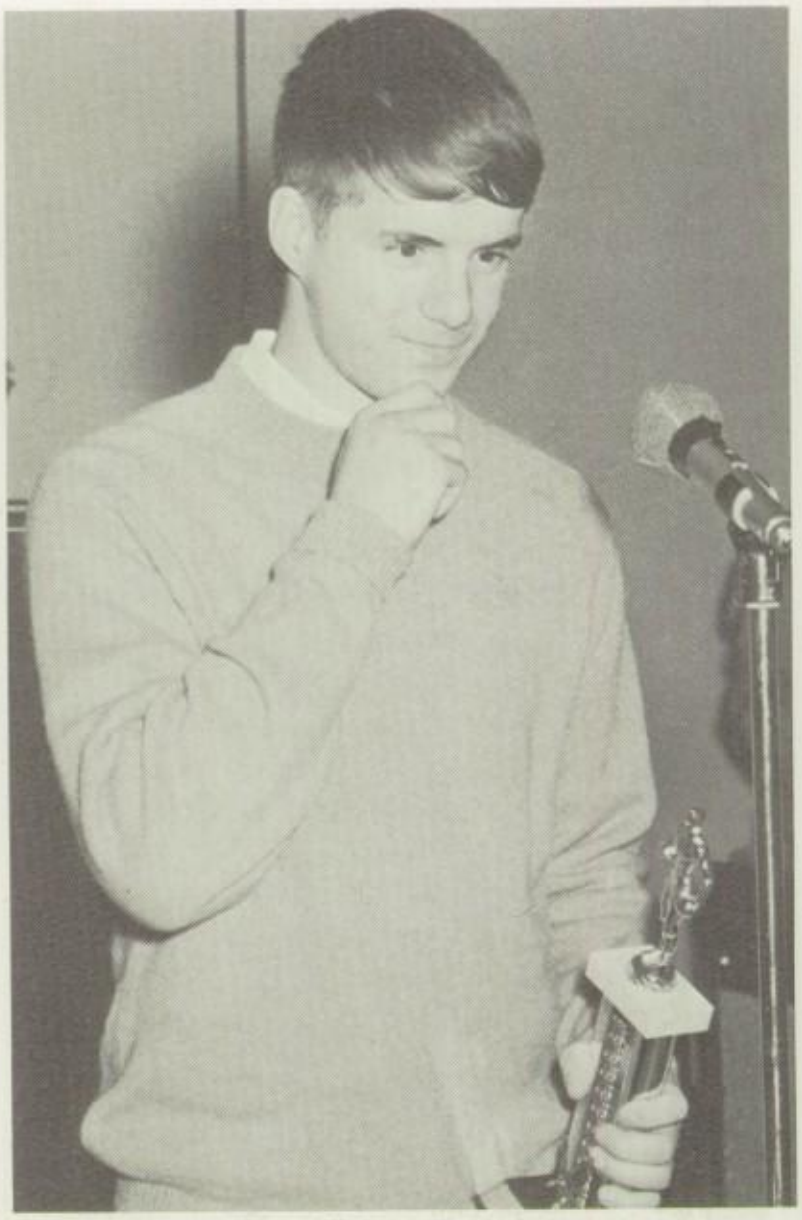
JUG SWINGING SENIORS, N. Salczynski and D. Catania, portray football players at the annual fall pep rally singing "Roll Out the Barrel."



ASTONISHED AND SPEECHLESS is Alan Parrish as he receives the title of 1969 Mr. Football. He was chosen from five candidates nominated by the football team.

WITH BANK AND CANDY Association senator J. Josway collects for the March of Dimes in a shopping center.

in School Social Events, Games, Dances

Helping to fulfill leisure time and provide enjoyment, many social activities were held for students at MHS. These events also provided opportunities for pupils to meet people and develop social behavior.

Marking the close of the football season was the Mr. Football dance. Students cast their vote for one senior boy whom they felt was most deserving of the acknowledgment from five candidates on the team. Baby pictures of the candidates were on display in the cafeteria to help students make their choice.

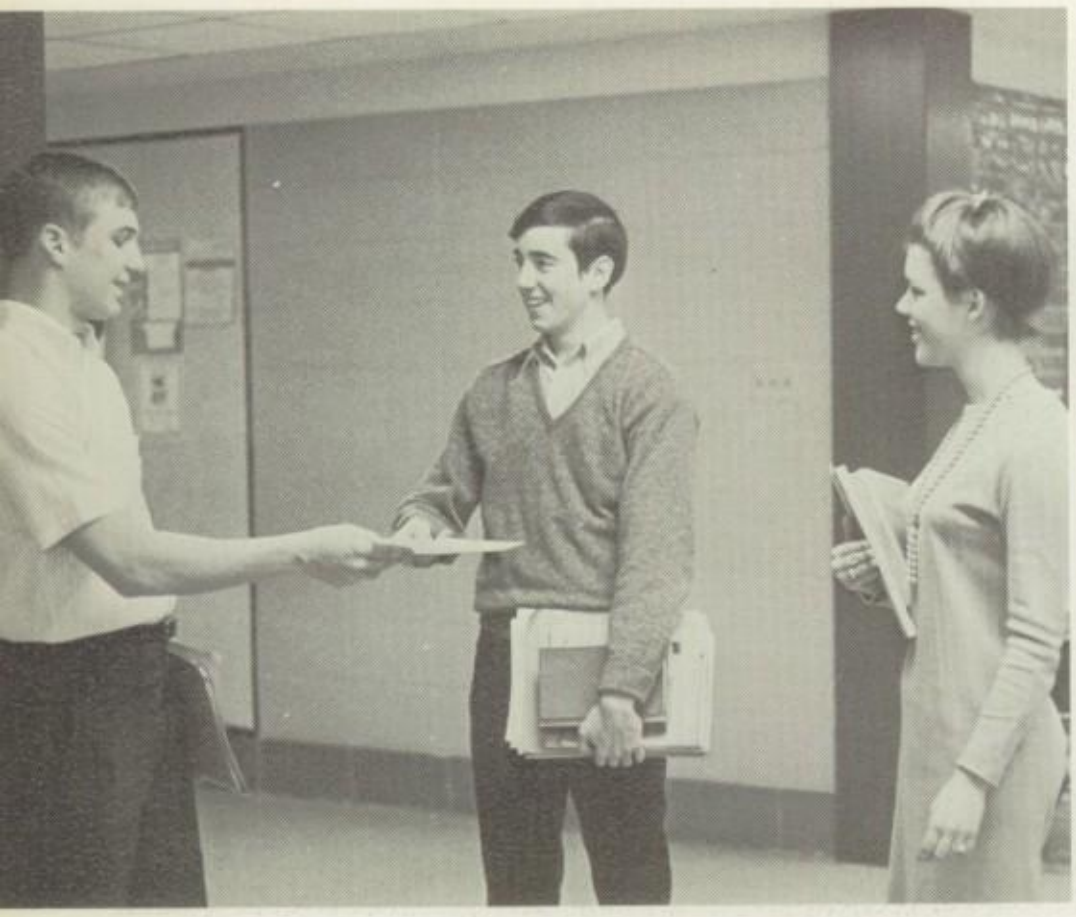
Booster Club sponsored the annual girls' basketball game on March 18. Each of the four classes were represented in the games. In the first game the freshman girls defeated the sophomores. The seniors overtook the juniors in the second game. In the final game the seniors became champs by defeating the freshmen. Highlighting the evening was the senior-faculty game. The faculty triumphed over the seniors 57-54. During half-time, the six candidates for Mr. Basketball were escorted down the gym floor and the winner was announced. A dance was held later in his honor.

Several volunteers from the Student Association became active in collecting funds for the March of Dimes. These students received donations from shoppers at Montgomery Wards and Woodmar shopping centers.

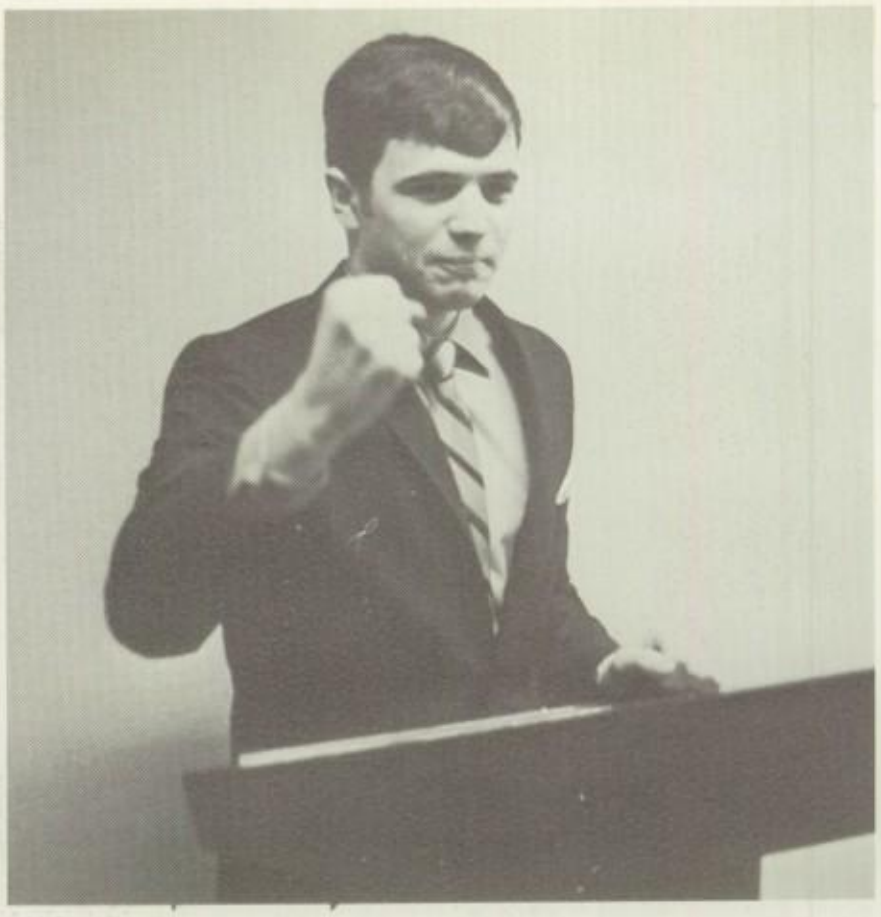
MR. BASKETBALL, senior Roger Hankins, is lifted into the air during the annual Booster Club basketball games by cheerleaders T. Konetski, R. Skorupa, T. Broach and M. Argadine.

FIGHTING FOR THE BALL, members of the freshman team struggle to defeat the sophomore girls during the Booster Club basketball game.

TO PASS THE BALL is senior C. Kaufman's objective as D. Petho and C. Bell defend for the junior team.



PAMPHLETS OF QUALIFICATIONS are distributed by junior B. Kuhn, persuading classmates B. Wells and L. Laslie to vote for him.



EMPHASIZING A POINT in his campaign speech, Rick Pumnea vies for the position of president of the Student Association.

Students Vote for New School Officers;

OPERATING A VOTING MACHINE for the first time in school elections, K. Kender selects her choice candidates.

TO FINISH CENTERPIECES for the Inaugural Ball on time, the Decorating Committee accelerates production. Association participants are Lynn Buckmaster, Tom Bevill, Kathy Goldschmidt, Elaine Stevenson, Mary Ann Miner, Andrea Bandura and Sandi Carey.

Inaugural Ball Honors Chosen Leaders

"Phases of School" was the theme for the 1968 Inaugural Ball. The semi-formal affair, conducted this year as a "turn-about," was held in Morton's cafeteria on November 29. Couples danced to the music of the Hal Morris orchestra. The Inaugural Ball, held annually, honors the newly-initiated Student Association officers. To emphasize the theme, centerpieces were garnished with basketballs, governors, books and musical notes made of black paper and mounted on styrofoam. Seated at the head table were the Student Association officers and cabinet. Proceeds from the Ball were used as funds to benefit the Association.

Elections, which took place in early spring, were held in a different manner from that of past years. A voting machine, installed in the Association office, enabled students to choose Association officers, class officers and senators in a way similar to state and national elections. Campaigning, as in the past, consisted of posting signs and handing out tags. In addition, finalists for president, vice-president and recorder of the Student Association addressed the student body at an assembly and recited their qualifications and opinions on school issues. Students then made their choices on the basis of these speeches.

CAPTURING A MOMENT between classes, Lynn Fleischer detects a perfect opportunity to ask Bob Halder to the turn-about Inaugural.

Students' Dress Displays Latest Fashions

Dressing in style, Morton students were always "on the go" in their freewheeling, teen-age fashions. They showed their variations in taste as they selected their wardrobe of school attire. Pacesetting students displayed the recent modes during school, social and academic activities throughout the year.

Popular shoe fashions for the school year included square-toed loafers and baby-dolls for girls and saddle shoes, wing tips, chug-a-boots and loafers for boys. Sweater vests for both boys and girls were worn during school. Striped ascots and ties were added to blouses and shirts to "pep" them up with extra color. Plaid slacks were worn with solid-colored shirts, giving the boys at Morton a collegiate look.

In contrast with the boys' collegiate look, Morton girls initiated a mod style with the new leather fashions. Dresses, jumpers and skirts, coupled with matching vests, were made of a simulated leather. Culotte outfits were permissable for social activities, such as games and dances, but not accepted for school wear. To develop a total look, opaque stockings were worn with the culottes. All fashions worn by students during the year complied with Morton's Dress Code.

RECENT STYLES, as modeled by Tom Grasha and Barb Zarnik, include plaid slacks and pantskirts with matching jackets.

STRIPED TIES and ascots, worn by C. Schultz and D. Bertagnolli, are becoming common accessories in school attire.

SQUARE-TOED LOAFERS and saddle shoes typify feminine and masculine footwear worn by fashion-conscious students.

Government Club Loses Viet Children

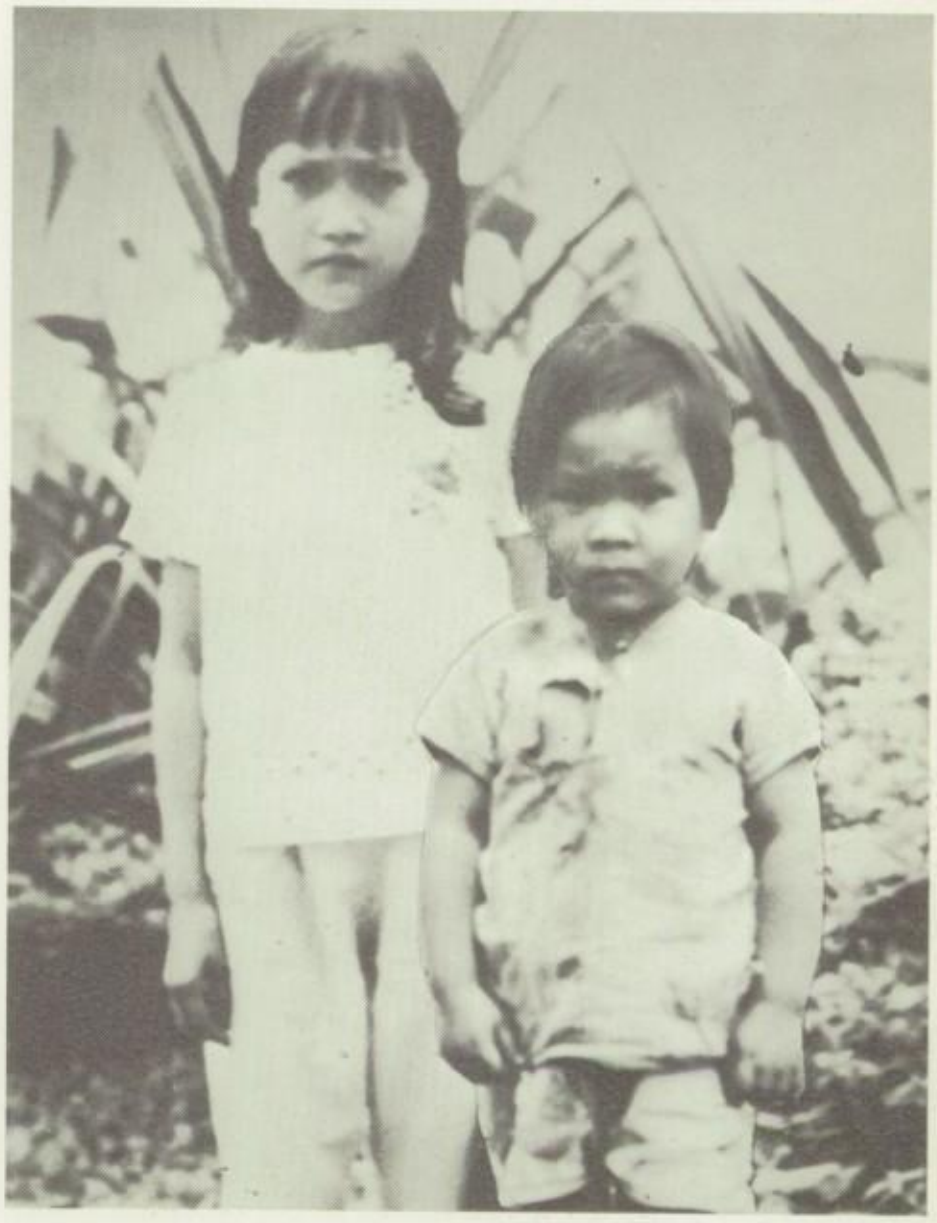
For four years Morton's Government Club supported two Vietnamese children, Nguyen Thi Trung and Nguyen Thi Be, by sending them $15 a month. This provided education for the children and food, clothing and shelter for the family. This year the club will terminate sponsorship. The Foster Parent's Plan, Inc. informed Morton that nine year old Trung and her family, after their village had been entirely demolished by the Viet Cong, were reported missing. Eight year old Be no longer requires assistance as her parents are now working and are able to support the family.

Under the direction of Sponsor Mr. Moorehead, the Government Club first joined the foster parents plan for overseas orphans eight years ago. Whether the club will undertake sponsorship of orphans in the future is uncertain. Mr. Moorehead feels that funds should now be used to help children in our own country.

"Cupid's Concerto," chosen theme of the now annual dance, was the money-making project for the orphans. "Tomorrow's Hope," a local band, provided entertainment. Highlighting the evening was the announcement of the one boy and girl from each class who became the 1969 King and Queen. The winners were selected from candidates in each homeroom.



VIETNAMESE FOSTER CHILDREN Nguyen Thi Be and Nguyen Thi Trung are no longer supported by the Government Club.

Award Recipients Exhibit Leadership in

ACCEPTING THE CHALLENGE AND HONOR of the positions of Boys' State delegates, seniors Ron Zgunda, Rob Keilman, David Sadewasser and Tim McGuan anticipate their duties.

Possessing outstanding qualities in various fields, a select group of students won honors for Morton Senior High School. Several city organizations sponsored these activities for interested students.

Chosen by the Social Studies Department as the DAR award winner was one senior girl considered to be the good citizen of the school. The winner of this award has excelled in mastering the qualities of patriotism, service, leadership and dependability.

Judged on the basis of an interest in government, leadership, character, courage, cooperativeness and scholarship, Social Studies teachers chose the Hoosier Girls' and Boys' State Representatives. These representatives spent one week during the summer at Indiana University partaking in a mock government.

Community Chest representatives aroused class competition while collecting funds. Morton's committee raised the largest amount of money of all the Hammond schools. By touring the Carmelite Home for Boys, Y.M.C.A., Good Will Industries and Brooks House, they realized the importance of the fund.

Science teachers awarded the senior with the highest grade average in science subjects the Bausch and Lomb Award. The winner was eligible for a scholarship at the University of Rochester in New York.

REPRESENTATIVES SELECTED for Hoosier Girls' State on the basis of interest in government are Gerry Rospond, Laura Luketic and Joyce Sargent.

Academics, Science, Community Affairs

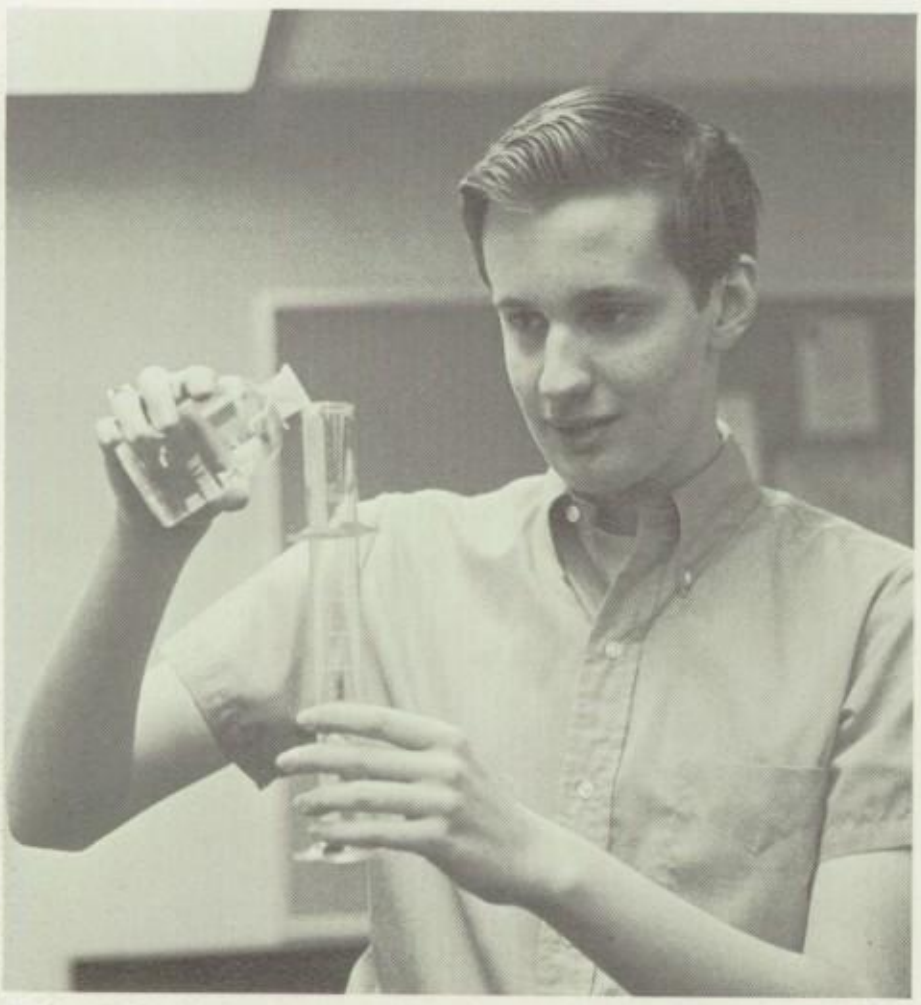
STUDENT COMMITTEE MEMBERS counting money from the Community Chest Drive are FRONT ROW: Ed Skager, Barb Bogert. BACK ROW: Barb Vanes, Ron Zgunda, Kathy Mosca. Their job was to prompt classes to compete with each other in donating funds.



EXPERIMENTING WITH CHEMICALS, David Sadewasser measures the volume of a liquid with a graduated cylinder. He represented Morton as the 1969 winner of the Bausch and Lomb Science Award.

CAREFULLY CONTEMPLATING the honor as recipient of the DAR Award is senior Theresa Tokoly. A certificate and pin were awarded.

Cap with Tassel, Gown, Diploma Notes

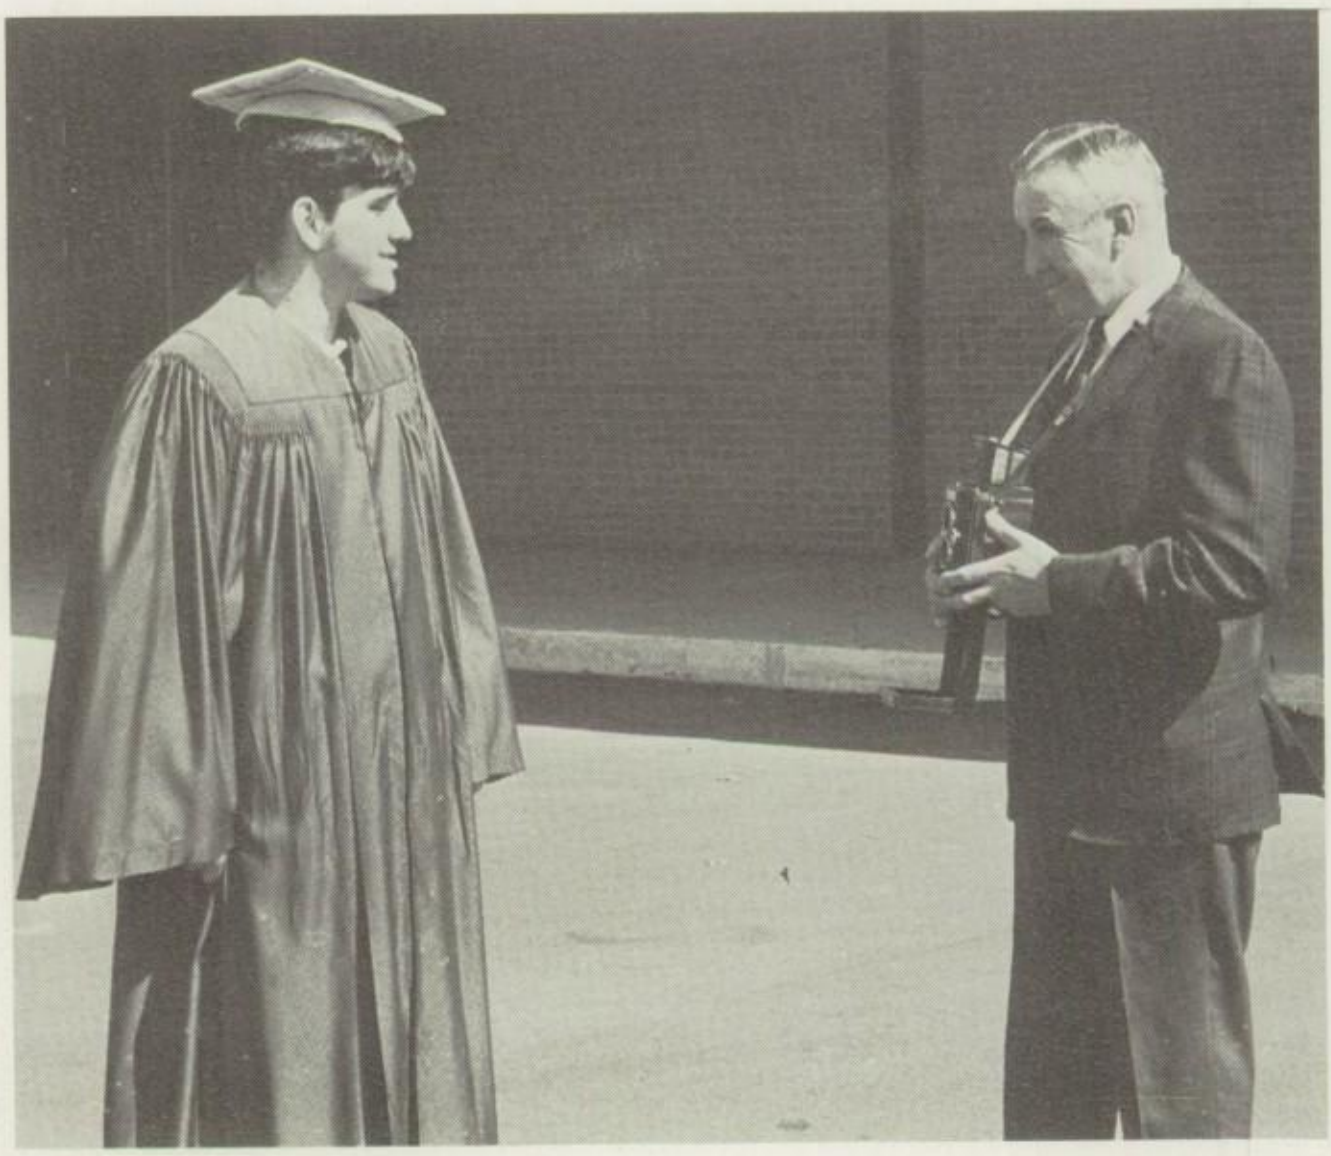
ENDING FOUR YEARS of high school life, seniors approach commencement activities. Students file from the cafeteria to the gymnasium for graduation. Tassels on the right side will soon be pushed to the left side after receiving diplomas.



POSED FOR GRADUATION PICTURES in cap and gown is Jim Deiotte. His father, Mr. Deiotte, is the photographer.

Ending of High School Days at Morton

MEMORIES OF THE PAST come into mind as a senior boy walks up the auditorium aisle before Baccalaureate Service.

Following a month of pre-graduation activities, high school life came to a close for the class of '69. Now major festivities such as the prom, the Inaugural Ball and homecoming remain only memories.

One of the highlights of the senior year was senior week. Graduates, donned in crazy attire, had the opportunity to perform practical jokes and clownish pranks. Finally on May 30, wearing their finest apparel, the class of '69 attended the Awards Assembly and outstanding seniors were acknowledged.

On May 22 the senior banquet was held at the Log Restaurant in Chicago Heights. Mr. Bill Passmore, recipient of the Handicapped American of the Year Award, was the speaker. Guests of honor included Dr. and Mrs. O. Rapp and Mr. and Mrs. W. Preston.

In the auditorium on June 1 the traditional Baccalaureate Service was held. Guest speaker was Reverend Ralph Steele of the First Methodist Church in Hammond. Reverend Joseph Vamos of Saint Catherine of Siena Church in Hammond gave the invocation. Organ music was played by graduate Larry Rapchak and the Concert Choir sang various religious selections.

On June 4 the Class of 1969 walked down a canvas aisle placed in the gymnasium. The graduates heard speeches from the valedictorian, co-salutatorians and class officers. Mr. Alfred Kuhn, a member of the School Board, then distributed the diplomas.

COLLEGE NIGHT provides information for students planning to further their education. Representatives of colleges were available in the library to answer and discuss any questions.

ACADEMICS

UP, UP, AND AWAY went Academics. Technical equipment and countless practical machines were in full use. Pupils explored, discovering new interests and developing the old. Many found their future occupations.

Foreign Games Acquaint Students with

GREEK STRATEGY that was used in the historic Trojan War is explained to Latin classmates by junior Wes Lukoshus.

Along with teaching the speech of a country, the purpose of the foreign language classes was to familiarize the pupils with the music and recreation of the people of that nation. Students made demonstrations of games and performed various contemporary pieces of music for the benefit of their classmates.

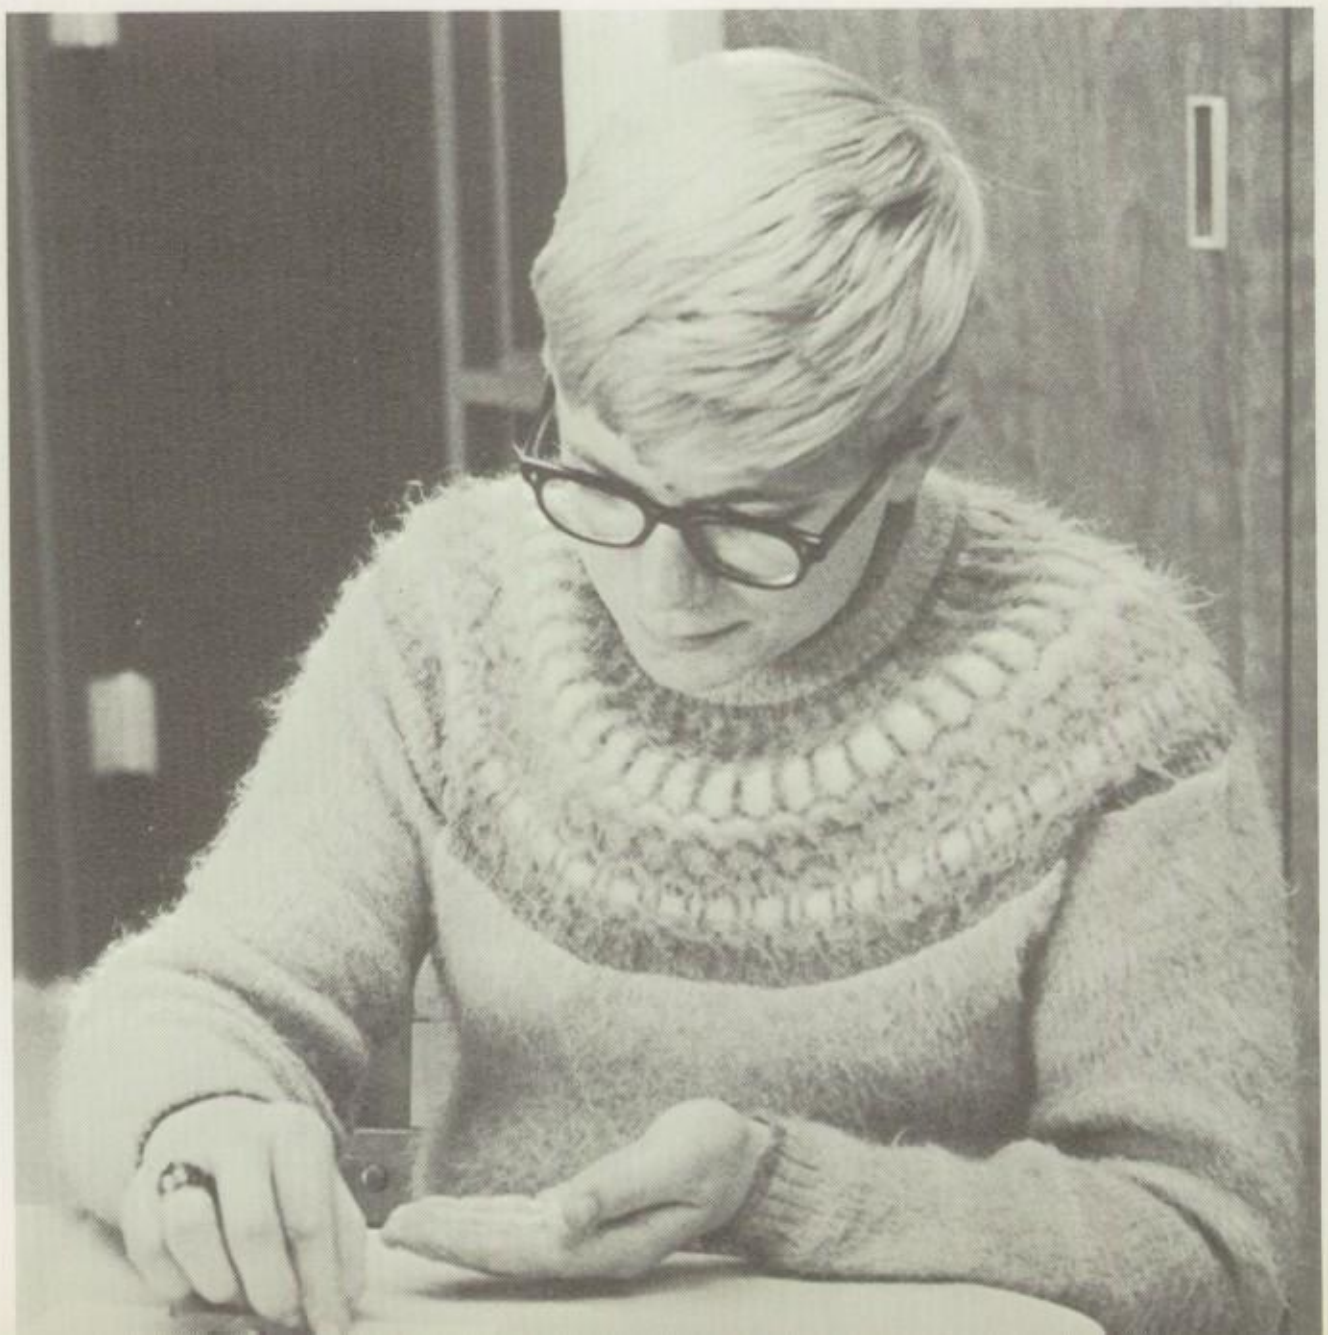
Beginning Spanish included studies of the verb tenses, structure of sentences and parts of speech. Other classes supplemented the usual material by reading such novels as THE THREE-CORNERED HAT.

French students added to their vocabulary by reading a monthly magazine, "Passe-Partout." This revue often contained records of songs and stories.

German students played German bingo, a game based on vocabulary use instead of numbers. Advanced classes read a magazine "Der Roller." They also read a short novel, DER VERSCHWUNDEN MINIATUR.

Latin classes studied Greek history, which covered the tale of the Trojan horse. Students learned the roots, prefixes and suffixes that compose English words and their general meanings in use today.

All language classes utilized the language lab where films where shown and dialogues were heard on tapes. Students also recorded their voices on tapes, then replayed them for pronunciation and vocabulary.



PLAYING GERMAN BINGO, junior Leonard Strom challenges his classmates to a game that gives more practice in concentration and numbers.

Countries; History, Music Vary Courses

PRONUCIATION OF SOUNDS is important to senior Mike Balog for French class. The mirror assists in making certain his mouth formations are correct to produce vowel sounds.

BANDERILLAS IN POSITION, Spanish student Pam Briggs relates the procedures of Spain's national pastime, the bullfight. Banderillas are placed in the bull's neck by banderilleros to weaken the bull before the matador's final blow with the sword.

Pupils Utilize Visual Aids in Recitations

Darkened rooms, backdrops and pictures created atmospheres for varied assignments in many of the English classes. Topics ranged from studying grammar and mythology to American and English Literature.

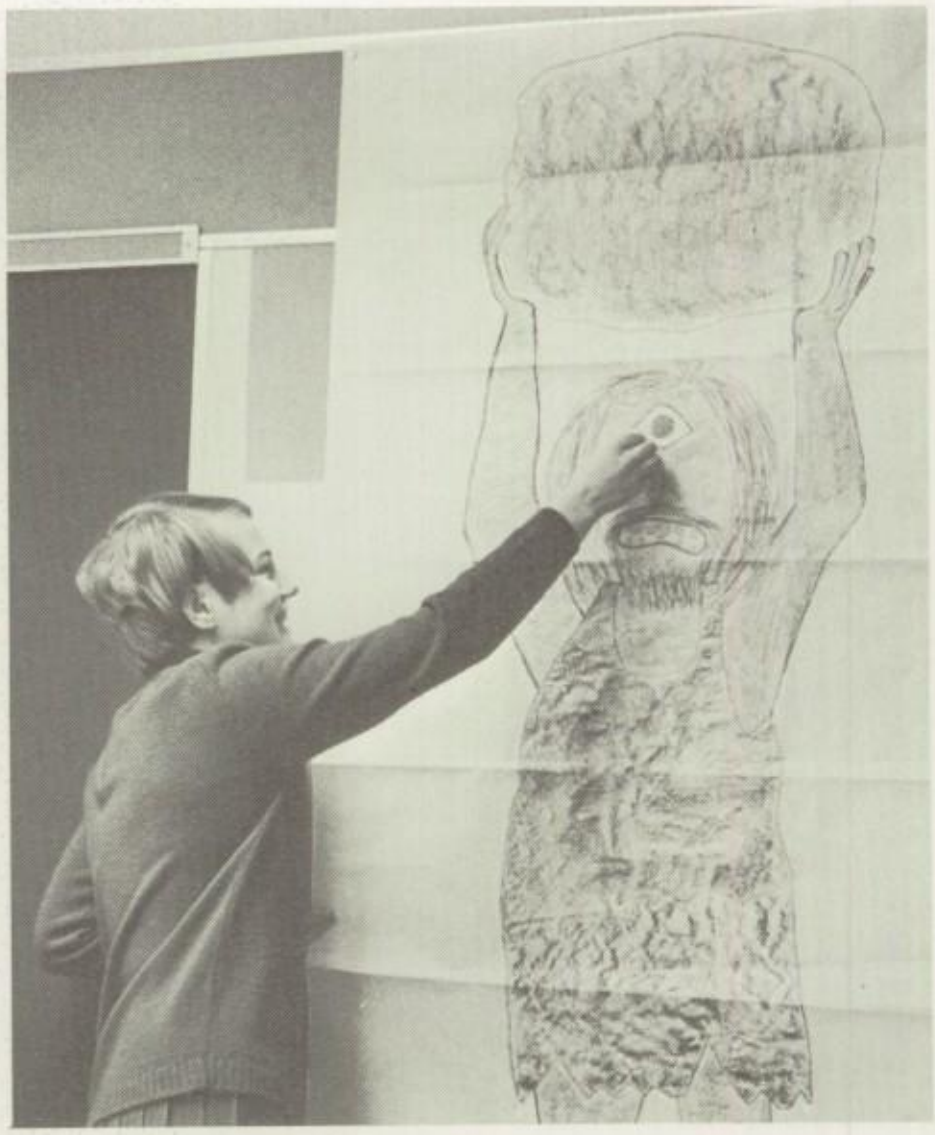
Examination of Greek classics such as the AENEID finalized English I mythology studies. English II included reviewing grammar, studying parts of speech and components of a sentence and their functions.

Second year courses emphasized different types of speeches such as humorous, demonstrative and personal experiences. Memorization of excerpts from JULIUS CAESAR also remained a part of the course.

English V and VI dealt with American authors. The works of Longfellow, Irving and Hawthorne, three of the early writers, were read in the first semester while the works of contemporary authors such as Salinger and Pearl Buck were examined in English VI. Students also learned to observe symbolism, style, structure, technique and character development.

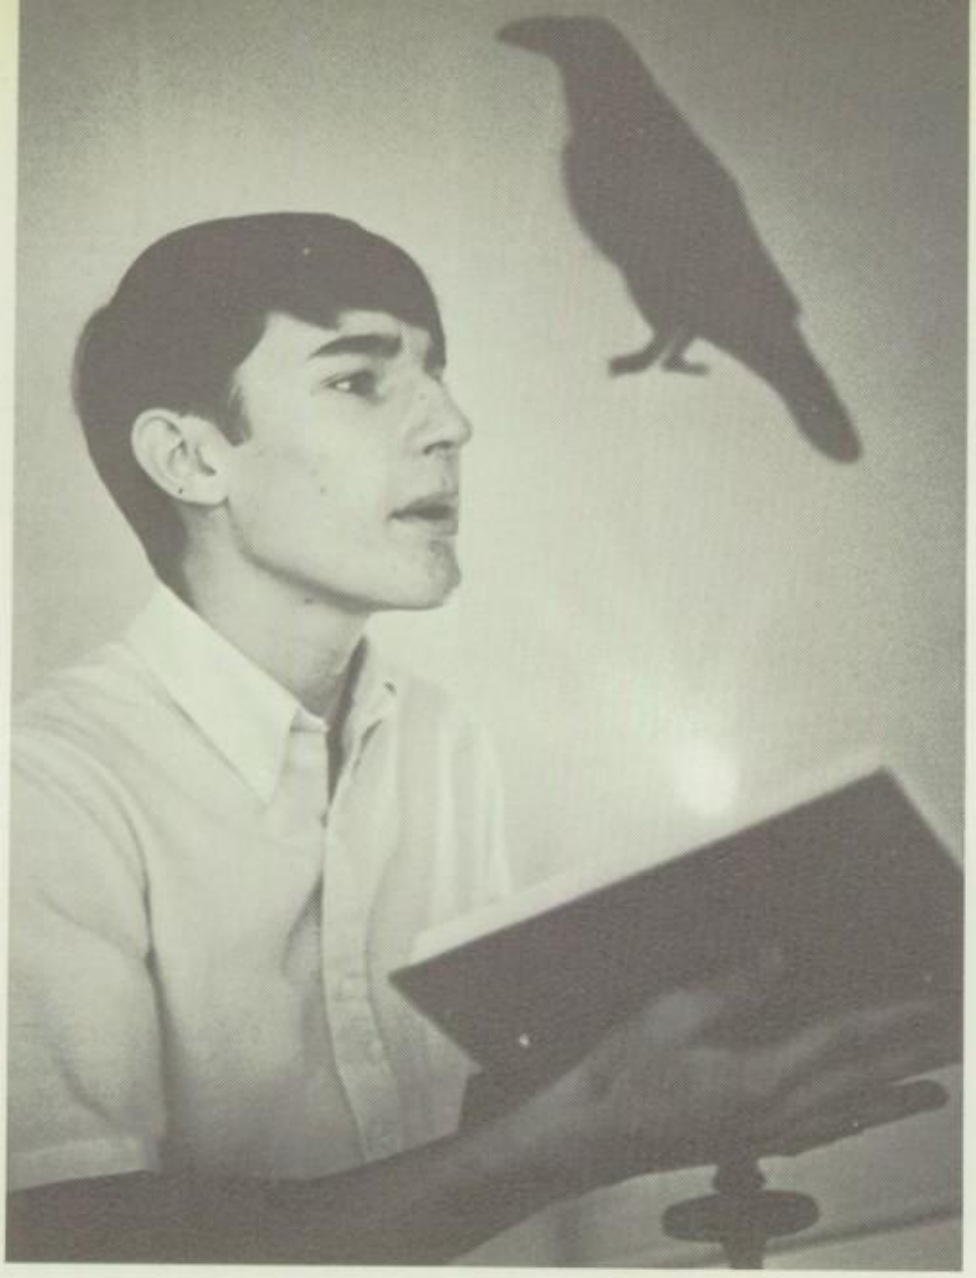
World Literature examined English authors from 400 A.D. to the present. Analysis of THE CANTERBURY TALES and CRIME AND PUNISHMENT led to the comparison of earlier styles to those more recent. Composition VIII was a writing course, consisting of creating subjective and descriptive papers.

Speech, debate and journalism were supplementary courses in the more defined areas of English. All of these offered opportunities directed toward a career.

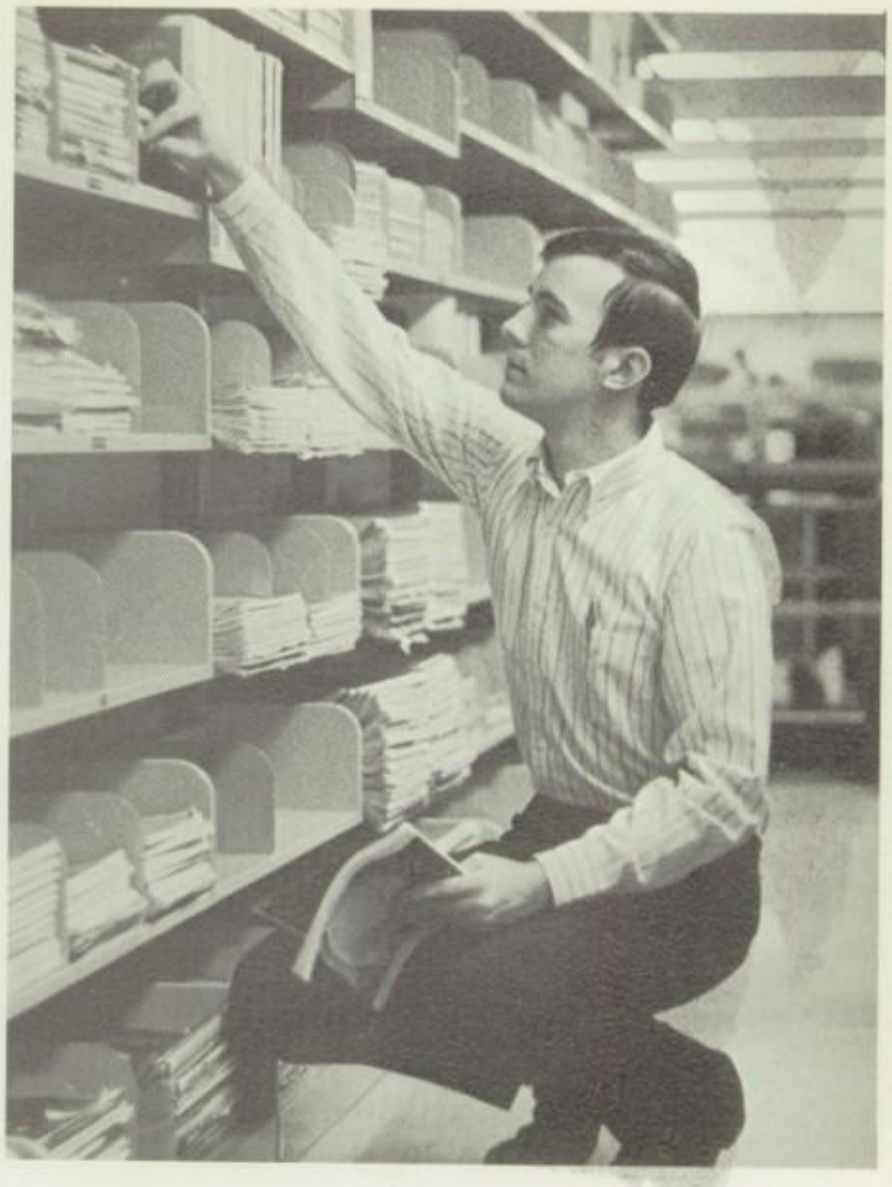


LEGENDARY CHARACTERS such as the cyclops were drawn by Pat Yonkee to help pupils visualize creatures from long ago.

WORKING TO MEET a deadline, Kathy Mosca endeavors to have her page in on time for the printer. She arranges the make-up by pasting galley proofs.



CANDLELIGHT AND SILHOUETTES provide the proper atmosphere for junior Dick Vanes to recite "The Raven" by Poe. English V students use props and records for interpreting the works of American authors.



IN PURSUIT of research material, pupils consult library assistant R. Zgunda who obtains magazines for their use.

UNIQUE DEMONSTRATIONS such as the proper technique of ear piercing highlighted a speech class. Terry Smith uses Nancy Dykstra for her "victim."

Novel Teaching Methods Alter Pattern

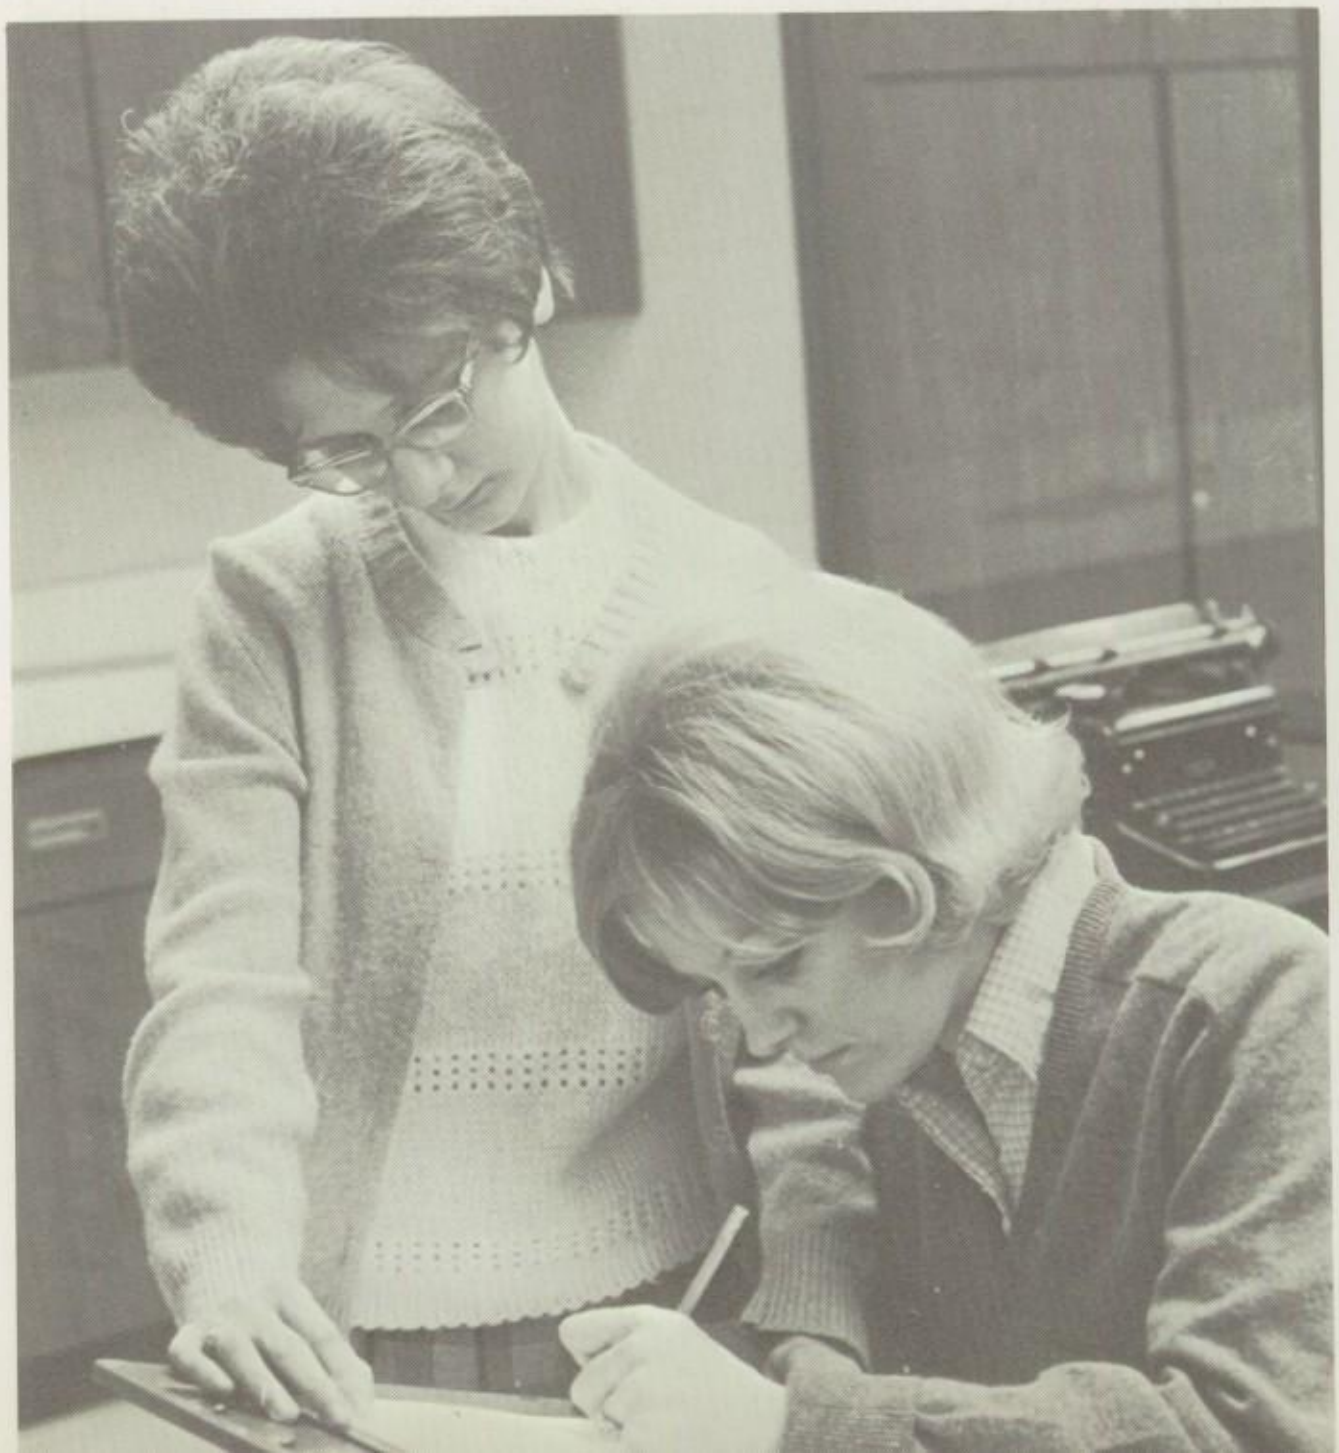
OBSERVING THE PROCESS of a Typing I class, Mrs. Bringas and Mr. Welte work together to instruct students in the procedures of typing. Introduced in summer school, this co-teaching method proved successful and was continued throughout the school year.



PREPARING A STENCIL for use on a mimeograph machine, seniors Linda Buono and Linda Cook learn the copying steps used in clerical practice.

of Classes; Drawings Assist Math Pupils

DEMONSTRATING THE USES of a geometrical model, sophomore Glenda Oglesby explains volume to a Geometry I class.

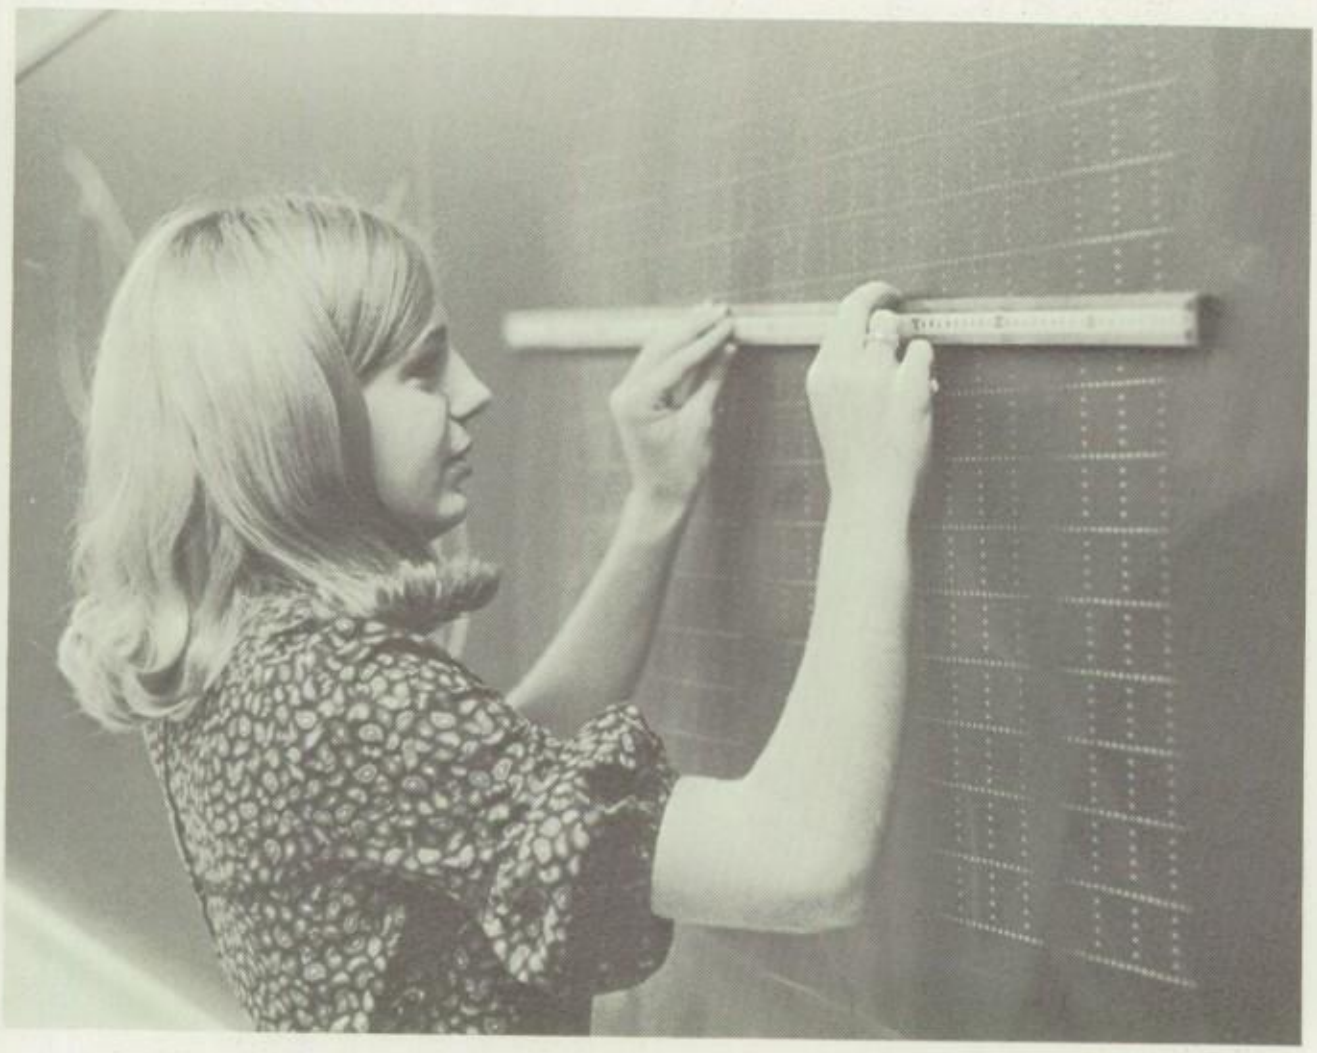
Watchful eyes over the shoulder and a guiding voice in the air are characteristic of the novel teaching method introduced this year in Typing I. Mathematic areas continued with the "modern math" teaching techniques, which teachers adopted recently.

Co-teaching was responsible for the changes made in the typing classes. While one teacher gave directions using a microphone, the other would help individuals. Students were given various problems used for drill and graded work, such as memorandums, letters and one and three minute timed writings.

Clerical practice class experienced working with a new machine, the friden. This ten-key printing calculator did most mathematical computations. Machines associated with the course include the victor, the executary, the mimeograph and the dictaphone.

Stenography, a two hour secretarial course, prepared students in areas of dictation and typing. Business law, general business and bookkeeping, also offered in this department, taught the basic fundamentals in personal and business money-management. Senior sales classes learned personal and telephone soliciting.

Advanced math pupils took analysis, a course in which students prove an assumed result to a problem. Regular and honor classes in geometry and algebra continued. Also, a two year course of basic math was available for those not wishing to study these subjects.



PLOTTING A POINT on a coordinate graph, freshman Carla Usinger demonstrates one of the uses of a Cartesian coordinate plane for an Algebra I class. By using this method, solution sets of linear equations were found.

PROBLEMS FOR PHYSICS are analyzed by Mark Powers and Joe Ziemba. Labs enabled students to practice fundamental principles of computer programming.

Computers, Experiments Widen Range

Possession of technical electrical machines provided new growth of the science department. Modern equipment such as computers and television sets assisted the faculty in teaching techniques.

In physics, students analyzed simple and complex problems using computers. Programming an exercise into the device and then recording the feedback as data were some of the fundamental procedures learned.

Physical science class, a recent addition to the science department, was a general course for students who did not take chemistry or physics. During one lab, participants had the opportunity to make red wine and afterwards sample the resulting product.

Models and charts of the body helped Health and Safety students to recognize the functions of each organ. Pupils demonstrated the first-aid techniques showing correct steps for bandaging the injured.

Biology classes studied animal life and their body functions. The addition of the closed circuit TV simplified the steps used in dissecting. Students were able to view in detail the anatomical systems of fish, clams and worms, along with other specimens.

Chemistry classes concentrated on achieving correct chemical mixtures and formulas. Lectures and class discussions benefited pupils when preparing for lab.

Playing a chief role in the psychology class was the use of ESP and ink blot tests. Experiments in learning and retroactive inhibition were conducted as students performed trials tracing mazes.

MUSCLE REFLEXES of frogs are tested by biology students Chuck Mamrila and Kathy White while competing them in a race. During the year students in biology classes studied comparative anatomy, characteristics and behavioral patterns of animals.

PRINCIPAL PARTS of the eye are explained by senior Mike Kingston during a student discussion in Health and Safety class.

WITH RELIEF junior Gerard Drapeau sighs "A-h-h," after stepping under the chemistry room's shower. The purpose of this safety device is to wash off dangerous chemicals spilled on the body.

Nixon Triumphs in Classroom Elections

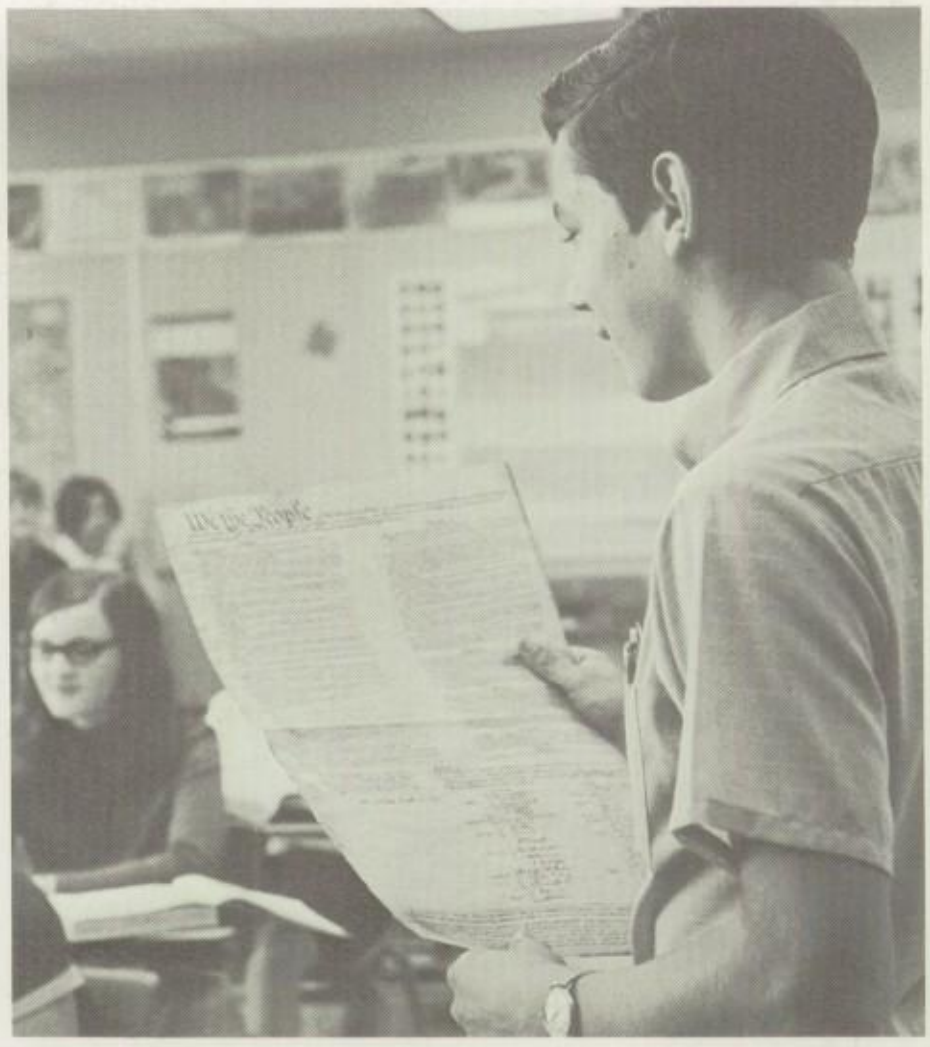
Presidential election year enabled U.S. History students to hold a mock class election and to vote for one of the three major candidates. The final tally showed that Richard Nixon led with only a slight margin over Hubert Humphrey and George Wallace registered third with a substantial minority vote.

Investigating the origin of the two major political parties played a key role in understanding the American heritage. U.S. History pupils studied documents including the Constitution and the Monroe Doctrine.

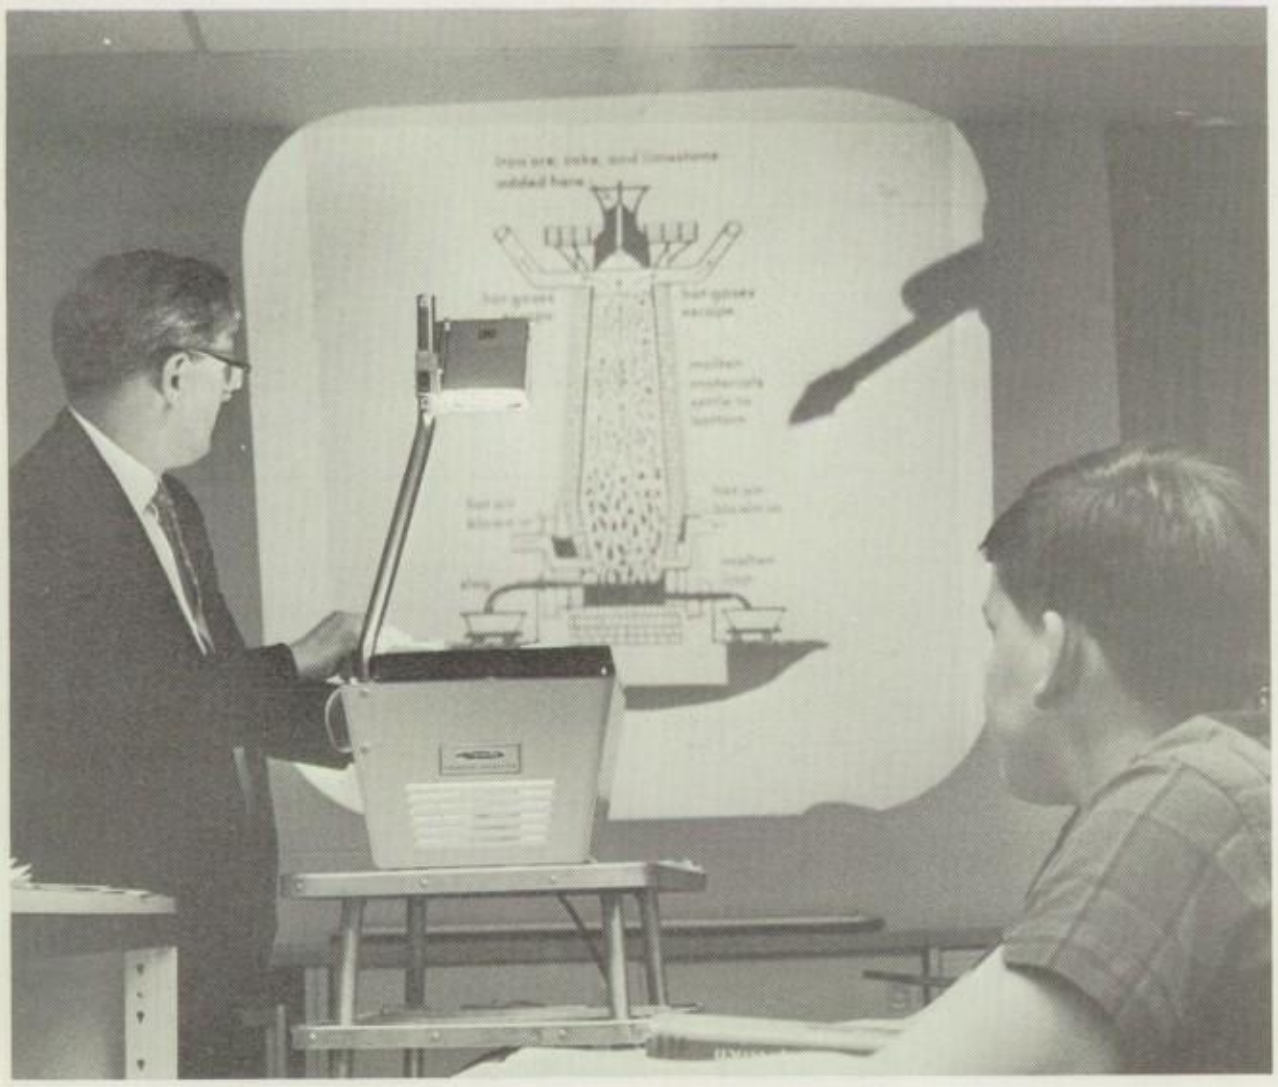
World History classes held discussions on the current crises, including the war in Viet Nam. Government actions and legislative bills were analyzed and discussed, giving the pros and cons of each. Fact-finding reports on ancient civilizations became a familiar assignment along with the extensive tests covering the information compiled outside of class.

Geography students studied the different land terrains in the United States and foreign countries and reported on the earthquake which occurred in early November. The earthquake, concentrated in the Midwest, affected 22 of the American states.

Government classes learned about the structure and purpose of the U.S. governing body. Obtaining newspaper clippings and writing term papers were added to daily classroom participation as learning processes.

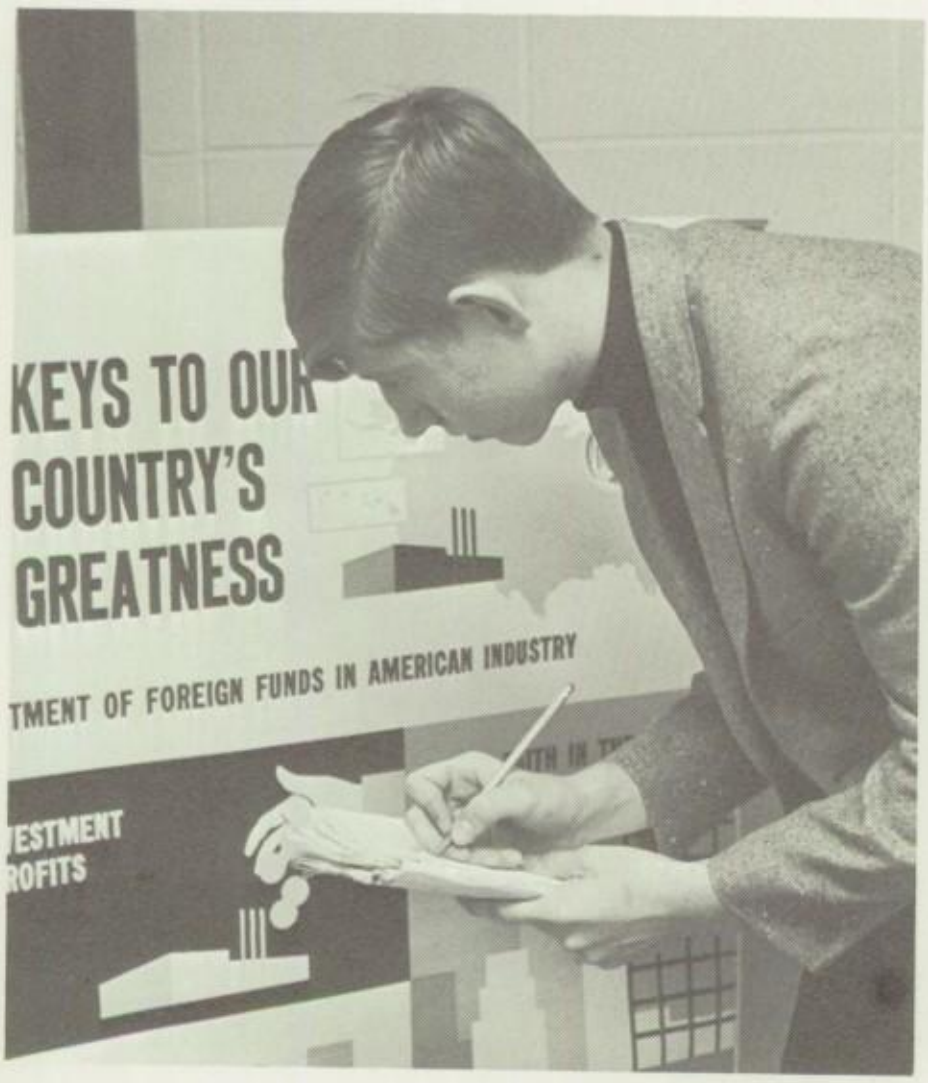


RECITING THE CONSTITUTION for U.S. History I students is junior Dan Pariso. Portions of the document were memorized.

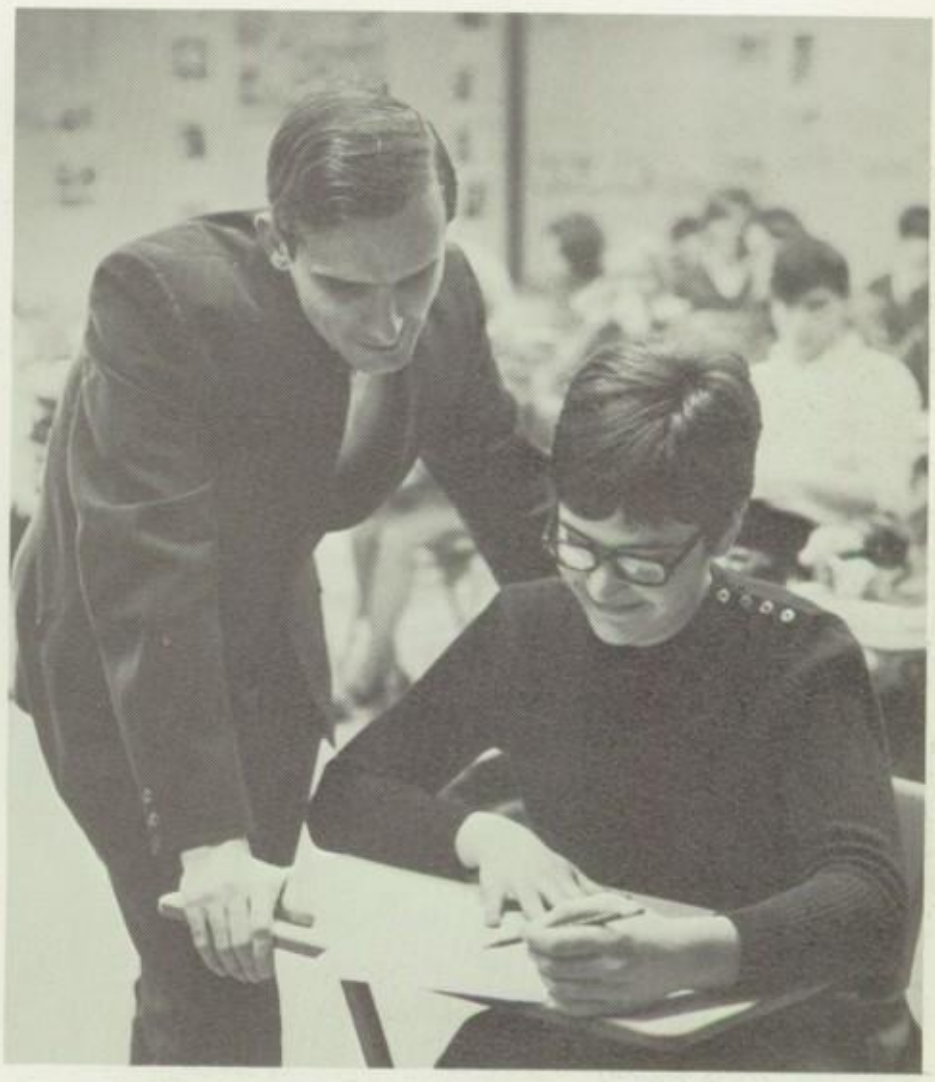


ILLUSTRATING A FURNACE used in the production of steel, geography teacher Mr. Nelson employs the overhead projector which aids students' vision.

CIVIL WAR MANEUVERS are exhibited to the class by Cathi O'Drobinak and Linda Houchin, U.S. History III students. Panel discussions and student opinions on various historical periods comprised a major portion of the advanced senior course.



KEYS TO SUCCESS in economics include progress charts and stock averaging. Senior Steve Wilson records information for class use.



COMPLETING AN ABSENTEE BALLOT, senior Norma Zaher is instructed by government teacher Mr. Gartner.

Electives Assist Students' Career Plans

VISUALIZING A HOME suitable to his taste, T. Lewis is busy constructing the model in his woodshop class.

Adding variety to every student's schedule, the electives offered at Morton cover many different types of interests. Cooking classes for both boys and girls, clothing classes, art, woodshop and electronics are among some of the available choices.

With a clash and a clatter, the pupils in Boys' Foods learned to prepare basic recipes such as pies and cupcakes. Cooking classes for girls were extensive in teaching proper diet and etiquette. Complete meals were planned in the advanced classes.

First year sewing classes included good grooming besides basic sewing procedures. In advanced clothing students chose patterns and various types of material such as wool, corduroy and cotton.

Rewiring systems of broken home utensils played a major part of the new electronics class this year. The boys disassembled items such as radios, irons and toasters and repaired them in class.

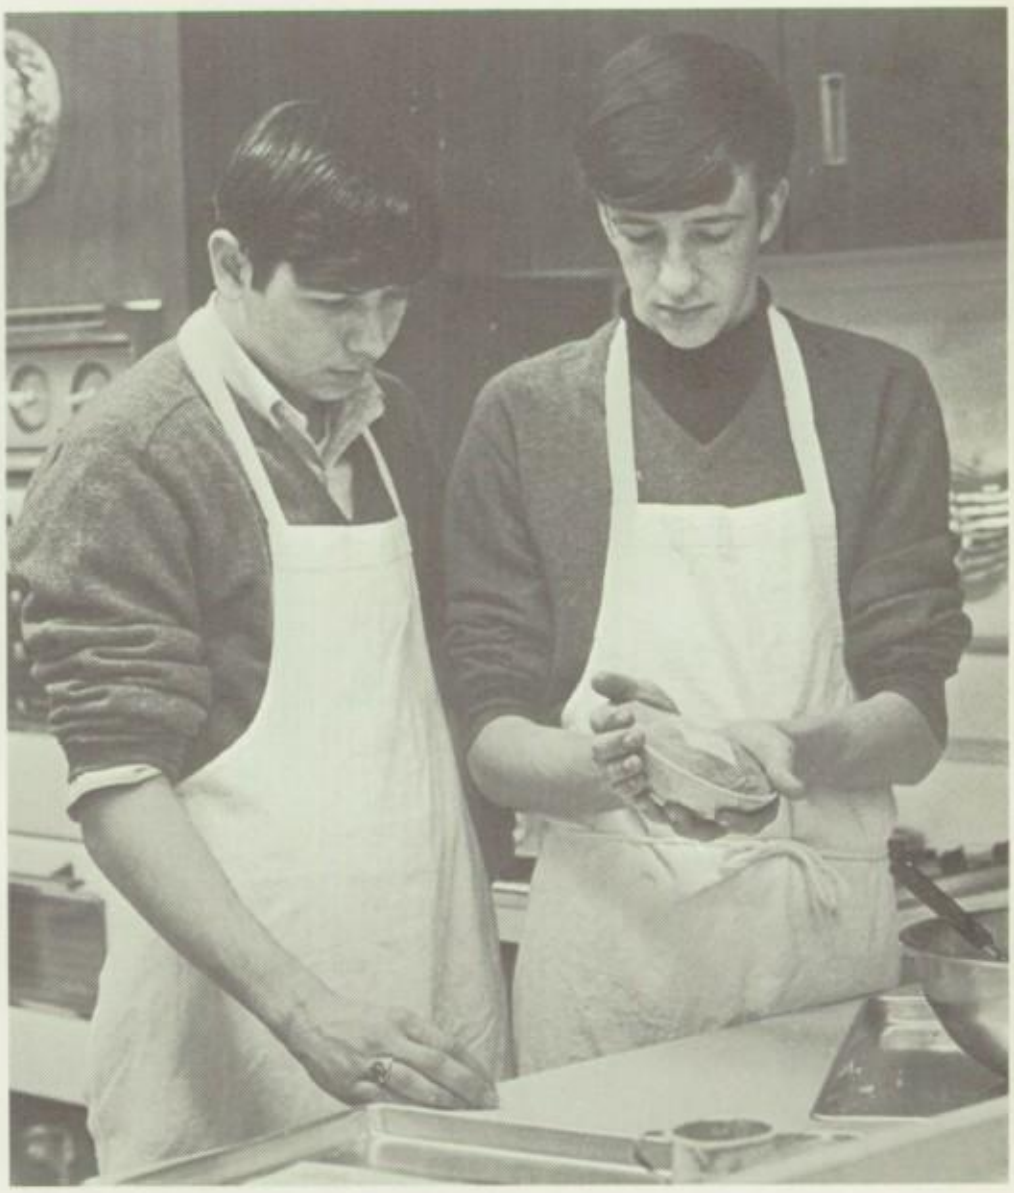
Woodshop students made several different projects. The boys had the choice of making ashtrays, podiums or lamps and made model homes for extra credit.

Art classes, also offered as an elective, allowed students to express their creative abilities. All aspects of the field were explored during the year.

INTENTLY ABSORBED in the process of repairing a radio, Tom Bevill takes a few "tips" from John Federenko on the proper procedure to follow.

CHECKING THE LENGTH of her A-line skirt, junior Debbie Burns makes use of a three-way mirror. Each girl was responsible for completing one skirt during Clothing I.

FORMLESS MOUNDS OF CLAY are changed into a work of art by Terry Wharff. Painting, drawing and sketching were also included in art class.



WITH TIME RUNNING OUT, Frank Racich and Rick Mason must store the raw cookie dough until the following day when they can bake it. Making cookies was one of the first recipes prepared in Boys' Foods.

Dancing, Gym Stunts, Tumbling Require

BALANCE AND COORDINATION are needed to perform stunts on the parallel bars. Mary O'Brien demonstrates one of the basic maneuvers, the swan balance.

IN PERFECT FORM freshman Patricia Walkowiak demonstrates the seat drop. This is one of the many steps in a beginning trampoline routine learned during the first week of gymnastics class.

TO DODGE THE BALL is the idea when playing the game of battle ball. Ken Bosch becomes the target as Joe Hussey, Pat Mullane, Randy Jackna and John Vandenbemden scatter from the ball's path.

Consistent Practice

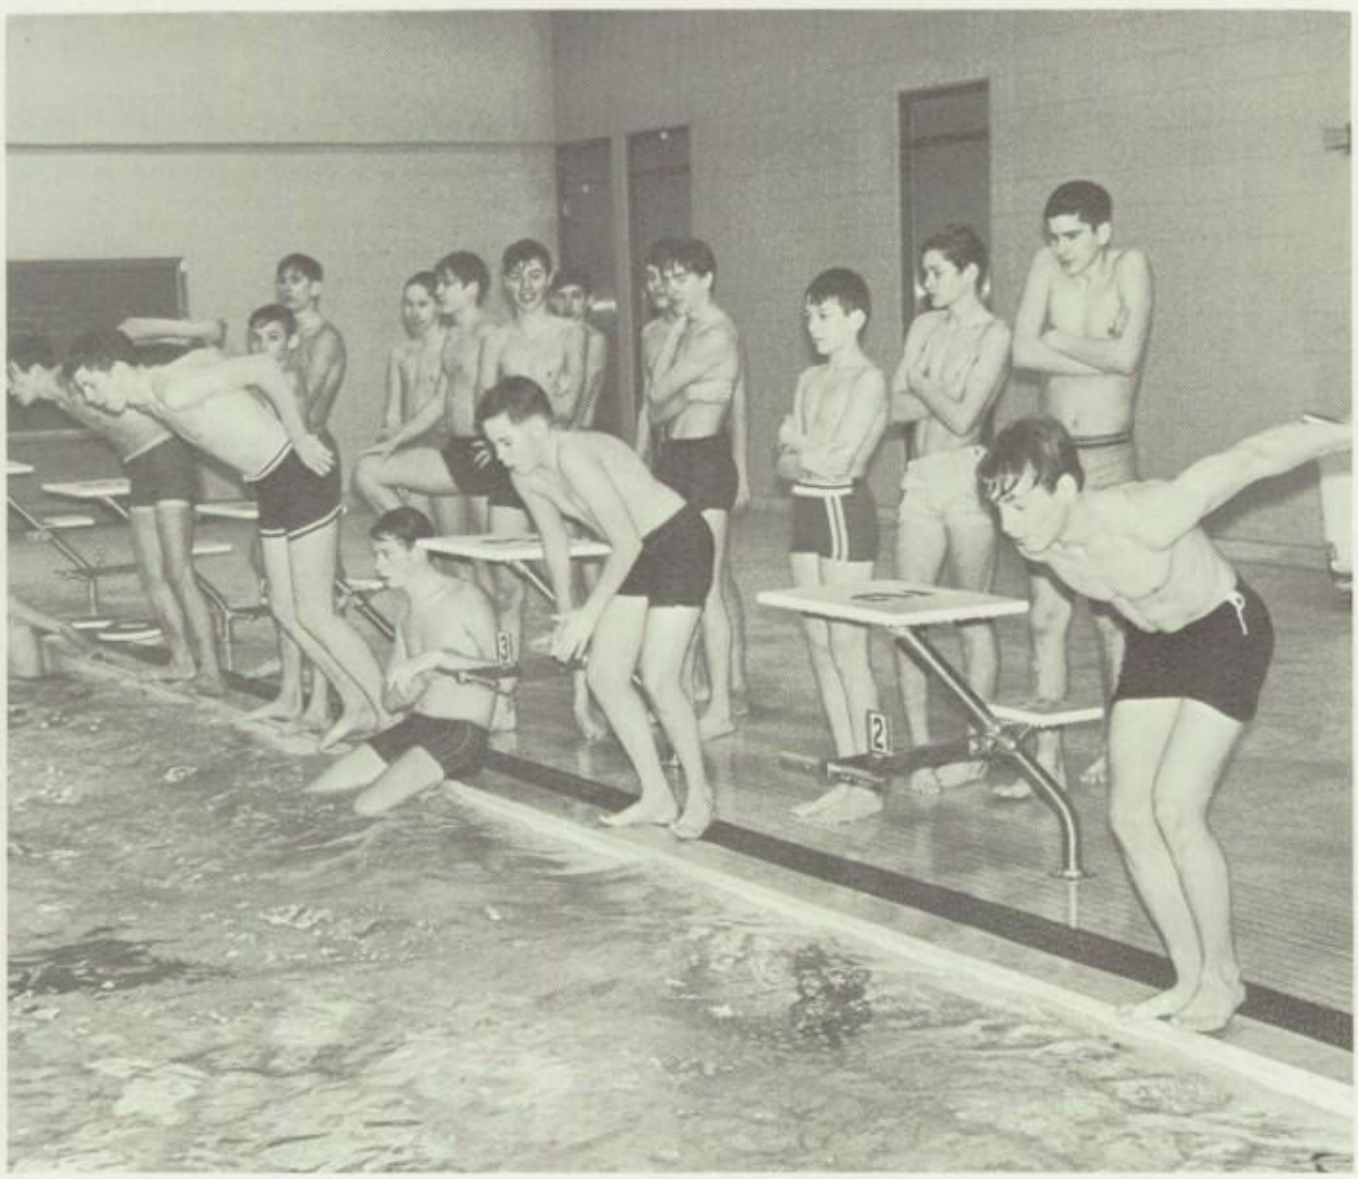
Composing the main physical education program at Morton is gymnastics, swimming and basketball. During the course's required year, a six weeks period is devoted to each of these areas with some attention given to the minor sports such as volleyball.

Young gymnasts, both boys and girls, learned stunts on the ropes, trampoline and mats. The girls also worked with the parallel bars, horse and balance beam. Short gymnastic routines on each piece of equipment were memorized and performed for the final grade.

All freshmen learned basic rules and skills of basketball. The first few weeks of the grading period were spent playing practice games. During the last week class members formed teams and then staged a final tournament. Students perfected their jump shots and shooting. They also acquired skill in learning how to guard and out-maneuver their opponents.

Constant practice and correct form were necessary requirements in swimming. Both boys' and girls' classes offered chances for each student to earn a swimming rank in the American National Red Cross water safety program. Beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate classes were the most commonly completed. However, swimmer and advanced swimmer were offered.

BASIC STEPS such as promenading a square assist freshman girls in learning the art of folk dancing during gym class.



PRACTICE DIVES in Physical Education class enable the boys to perfect their techniques. Swimming is taught for a six weeks period.

ACTIVITIES

UP, UP, AND AWAY went Activities. Larger facilities made possible the formation of new clubs. Old organizations expanded their membership. More extracurricular activities created more student involvement.

Council Performs Administrative Duties

by Expanding Membership of Cabinet

ASSOCIATION ISSUES are discussed by representatives L. Hilty, K. Kerrick, R. Davis, G. DellaRocco and B. Schroeder.

Secretary of Student Projects was a new position adopted by the Association cabinet. The position was founded for the purpose of supplying school areas with appropriate holiday decorations. Other cabinet members voluntarily supervised several charitable projects such as the March of Dimes Drive.

Learning to accept and carry out responsibilities, members of the Student Association discovered and developed powers of leadership. Students were given the opportunities to voice personal opinions and become better acquainted with fellow classmates.

Student Association sponsored a pre-school orientation to help incoming freshmen become familiar with new surroundings and high school procedures. Student government duties also included organizing homecoming festivities and compiling student directories.

Sectional spirit week was a new activity created by the Association. Classes were given points based on signs and enthusiasm displayed at the pep rally and basketball game. Mr. Kurteff announced the winning class over the intercom the following day.

During bi-weekly meetings of the student court, stronger rules and penalties were enforced. To aid in the accuracy and speed of the court, an assistant recorder was appointed to help during lunch hours.

Pupils Learn About Future Occupations,

In observing our first President's wedding anniversary, the History Club held a dance in honor of George and Martha. "Happy Anniversary George and Martha" was chosen as the theme. Silhouettes of the celebrated couple decorated the cafeteria. Profits from the dance were used to take a field trip in the spring.

Selling multi-colored ribbon was the chief fund raising project this year for the FTA members. The profits from this drive were used toward a scholarship for one graduating senior. A point system was set up by the officers to determine to whom the scholarship would be awarded. At the bi-weekly meeting various representatives from Indiana's colleges spoke on topics regarding courses and teaching experiences.

Government Club's yearly fund raising project, "Cupid's Concerto," was held on February 21. A king and queen were chosen from individual classes.

Hi-C membership is primarily composed of those students interested in health careers. Speakers from various health centers in the area lectured on future occupations in the numerous fields of medicine.

Future Secretaries Club was open to all students interested in a business career. Regular meetings were held at assigned schools throughout the area.

National Groups Maintain High Goals

USING HIS HANDS to relate his speech to his listeners is Norm Szydlowski. Steve Wilson takes notes to cross-examine him.

To recognize the outstanding students at Morton, honor groups were originated. Members must remain in good standing and fulfill scholastic obligations.

Debate, affiliated with N.F.L., captured numerous awards. Defeating 21 other schools, Morton debaters became the Calumet Region Forensic League Champions. The debate team received a first place rating at Indiana High School Forensic League Tournaments.

Maintaining high entrance qualifications, National Honor Society was established to recognize outstanding students. High character, service and leadership standards have to be met in order to be accepted. The major fund raising activity of the club was the sponsoring of a dance, "Oriental Madness."

Under the direction of the National Honor Society, Tutors Club consists of students who are qualified to aid others with difficult subjects. Assignments are handled by Miss Clair, sponsor of the organization.

National Forensic League is an honor group founded for the purpose of promoting and developing skills in speech. Membership requires that students earn at least 25 points while participating in debate, discussion, poetry or dramatic interpretation contests.

Publication Staffs Inform Student Body

Attending a two week journalism workshop at Indiana University, the TOP HAT editor and assistant editor gained experience in yearbook organization and make-up. This year the TOP HAT editors chose to convey the theme with art work on the division pages. Due to new sporting activities introduced by the athletic department and the expansion of clubs, the addition of eight pages to the yearbook was necessary.

Yearbook section editors prepared individual portions of the TOP HAT. They had the responsibilities of organizing and completing pages to be sent to the printer. To speed up the completion of section divisions of the yearbook, assistant editors were assigned to work under the original section editor.

Hindered by money shortages, the MORTONITE staff sponsored a magazine sale. The entire student body was asked to sell at least one magazine to provide sufficient funds for future publications of the paper. The staff was able to continue its work and the MORTONITE again was given the highest award by the National Scholastic Press Association, All American.

Balancing headlines and pictures, MORTONITE page editors worked to create eye pleasing pages. Bi-weekly deadlines were met by the page editors.

SECTION EDITORS— FRONT ROW: J. White, M. Payton, B. Miller. SECOND ROW: L. Fieldon, L. Luketic. THIRD ROW: C. Kaufman, J. Babinec. BACK ROW: M. Greenwood, N. McTaggart, J. Bond.

APPROVAL OF YEARBOOK MATERIALS before going to the printer must be given by TOP HAT editor Chris Czlonka.

EXAMINING PAGE PROOFS, Joyce Sargent, MORTONITE editor, recounts a newspaper headline, preparing it for press.

SUPERVISION OF ASSIGNMENTS and reporters' beats are handled by MORTONITE assistant editor Cathy Collins.

CONFUSED AND UNDECIDED while trying to make a selection for the 1969 TOP HAT cover is assistant editor Barb Bogert.

Quill and Scroll Pays for Office Phone

BOOSTING TOP HAT SALES, senior Bobbie Miller tours halls. She models a sandwich sign to attract perspective buyers.

Quill and Scroll members were responsible for the private phone installed in the publications office. This new feature enabled staff members to conveniently make necessary business calls. An MHS pin sale was also sponsored by this honorary society, composed of upperclassmen who have been involved with one of the school publications and are classified in the upper third of their class. Profits from this drive were used to pay for a portion of the annual banquet.

Journalists on the TOP HAT and MORTONITE staffs strived to improve their "top-rated" publications. While section and page editors planned the contents, edge editors and reporters assisted them by writing needed headlines, captions and copy. Using a point system compiled by the chief editors, all staff members obtained their grades by the quality and quantity of their work. These factors enabled the students to apply for positions on next year's staffs.

Working to boost yearbook sales, TOP HAT salesmen paraded through the cafeteria wearing sandwich signs. They informed students that books were on sale and designated the price. Although the price of the book was increased one dollar, due to climbing printing costs, this year's sales surpassed last year's.

Service Organizations Unite to Furnish

Centering most of their activities around projects for the needy, Hi-Y and Y-Teens worked to create a better understanding of life's daily problems. Members of these groups must remain in good standing and follow the guides of clean living. This year for Thanksgiving, a canned goods drive was sponsored to provide unfortunate families with a happier holiday.

"Learn to be a lady" is the theme associated with Girls' Club. Members are taught all phases of etiquette and social graces pertaining to home, school and community life. After-school meetings provided opportunities for girls to discuss current attire issues.

Advanced methods of painting and drawing were taught during weekly meetings of the Art Club. Working with ceramics and making jewelry were extra-curricular activities in which the club took part. The election of officers was abolished to give all students a chance to contribute ideas freely. Participants must be enrolled in an art class to qualify as members.

Home Economics Club sponsored a stationery sale to provide a family with presents and a Christmas meal. Various field trips to hospitals were planned to bring cheer to the ill and elderly. Club membership requires that a girl must have taken a semester of clothing or be enrolled in a clothing class.

Necessities for Poverty-Stricken People

PHYSIC CLUB OFFICERS— FRONT ROW: R. Skorupa (v. pres.), R. Blythe (treas.). BACK ROW: E. Skager (pres.), M. Bogner (sec). These students plan meetings and the annual banquet.

Color wheels, black lights and psychedelic posters helped carry out the theme "Kaleidescope" at the Chemistry Club dance. Field trips to Standard Oil Company and Argonne National Laboratories were made possible by the dance's profits and a taffy apple sale. The curriculum of the meetings included lectures, lab work and films informing the members of the many different types of human and animal life. Students were also given the opportunity to further their scientific knowledge by viewing microscopic slides.

This year Electronic Club's membership tripled that of last year. Repairing radios was the main duty of all members at each of the bi-weekly meetings.

Physics Club's annual peanut brittle sale was again the money raising project sponsored by the club. The profits enabled the club to attain Dr. Battenburg, an engineering professor from Purdue Calumet Campus, as a speaker at a specially called meeting.

After-school bake sales and dances sponsored by Zoology Club helped to furnish a closed circuit TV used in observing special scientific experiments. Club members also performed operations on rats with the use of a Kymograph to record the heart beat.

Dramatic Organizations Present Plays,

BEHIND THE SCENES, Kirk Agnini, stage manager for "Trudi and the Minstrel," patiently awaits his cue to dim house lights.

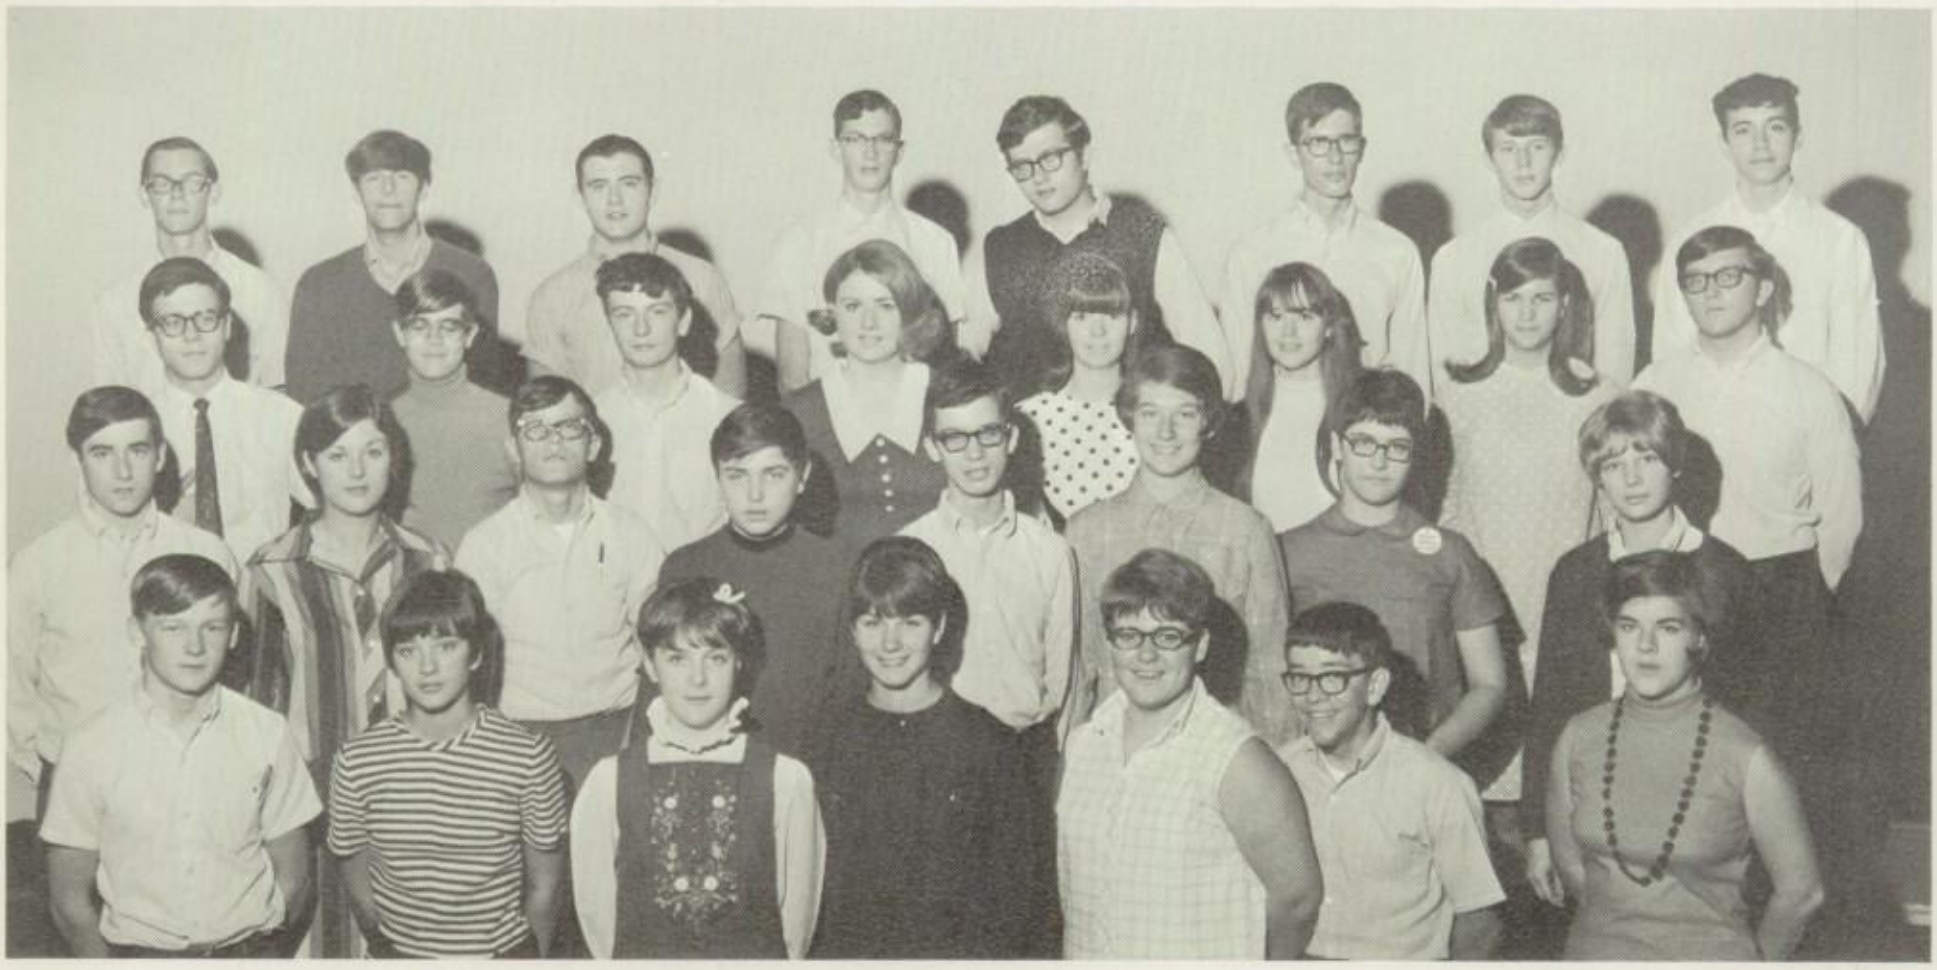
Working for the first time in the completed auditorium, Theater Guild went into full swing presenting TRUDI AND THE MINSTREL. The musical, CARNIVAL, THE WIZARD OF OZ and three 1-act plays completed the schedule for the year. A candy and fruitcake sale was the Guild's main fund raising project for the purpose of obtaining money for equipment.

Stage Crew's membership is open to all students interested in backstage work on any of the elements of production. The crew was responsible for stage setting and lighting at all school programs.

Thespians, an honorary theater organization, is associated with a national group, Thespian Troupe 397. Prospective members are rated on a one to ten point system. They must demonstrate willingness to work and talent by being active in a theater group.

To provide actors with proper attire and correct features to portray their designated roles, costumes and make-up committees were formed. After-school hours enabled volunteers to design the needed fashions.

All theater organizations participated, along with six other Hammond area schools, in a workshop held at Morton. One-act plays were staged in rooms throughout the building for the viewing of those interested. Qualified judges selected the best presentation.



THESPIAN MEMBERS— FRONT ROW: B. Hudacin, B. Genisauski, C. Baker, R. Biscan, M. Lambert, R. Lynch, E. Hopf. SECOND ROW: R. Wells, D. Gillespie, E. Sharpe, J. Fulk, P. Chiki, M. Stryzinski, N. SELECTED MEMBERS FOR CARILLIONS— FRONT ROW: M. Lambert, V. Hodis, M. Verbick, B. Bogert, J. Usinger. BACK ROW: J. Rowe, P. Verbick, C. Baker, L. Rapchak, accompanist.

Competing for their first time, Chantaires, a newly formed group, placed first in district competition. They also presented a special program at the Carmelite Boys' Home and at St. Catherine of Siena Church.

Carillons, an all girl singing group, won gold medals at both district and state contests. During the year they performed at a P.T.A. meeting and appeared in both the Christmas and spring school concerts.

Governaires, formerly known as the Mixed Ensemble, displayed their abilities during seasonal concerts and assemblies. In addition, the group entertained for the Kiwanis Club members. Providing entertainment for Morton athletes, the select organization performed at the Morton Adult Athletic Association banquet.

This year the Boys' Chorus and Girls' Chorus sang selections in the annual yuletide school concert. They also staged performances for an Altar and Rosary Society meeting at St. Catherine of Siena Church.

Under the new direction of Mr. Lawrence Harshmen, Concert Choir participated in the annual spring concert held May 16. The choir also was featured at the Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies.

Among the duties which the band performed was accompanying the twirlers, flag girls and newly organized Pom pon group. Band members attended all home football games, presenting the National Anthem before kickoff time and providing the cheerblock with a chorus of the school song after each touchdown.

Volunteer band students formulated Morton's Pep Band. This organization assisted the cheerblock and cape section during home basketball games. The Pep group added drum beats and horn toots to the chants.

Advanced students composed the Dance Band, an entertainment group. This band performed at the annual spaghetti dinner and queen candidates' assembly.

Marching band members took part in the Hessville Lions' Club Halloween parade and Hammond's annual Christmas parade. The entire band entered state-wide competition on April 19, bringing home excellent ratings. Individual members prepared solos for the February 15 district contest held at Butler University.

Taking over the responsibility of directing the orchestra, Mr. Melton replaced retiring Mr. Gregory. Select orchestra students played for CARNIVAL, the spring musical. Riley Elementary School's conductor, Mr. Amiec, led the chosen group. The orchestra prepared for the annual state contest and presented several of its selections at the spring contest.

Promote Outside Interests for Students

Furnishing members with after-school recreation, Audio Visual, Photo, G.A.A. and Foreign Language Clubs provided various opportunities for students to express hidden interests. Larger facilities and additional equipment aided in the development of new skills.

Audio Visual Club was completely independent. All club activities were conducted by the members. Discussions were led by the officers and hour captains.

Cageball, volleyball, basketball and shuffle board were some of the indoor activities with which G.A.A. members became familiar. The summer months gave students the opportunity to participate in soccer, baseball games and tennis matches. Improving coordination, the girls enhanced their athletic abilities.

Any interest in phases of photography qualified students for Photo Club membership. Proper picture-taking techniques and correct camera operations were taught during weekly meetings. Field trips, demonstrations and lectures assisted in training pupils to consider photography as a possible future profession.

Decorated in spanish style, the rear portion of Los Burritos restaurant provided the proper atmosphere of a spanish cafe for members of the Foreign Language Club. The students were served authentic mexican foods such as tacos and enchiladas, while roving spanish musicians sang requested songs.

Stocking Caps to Expand Athletic Fund

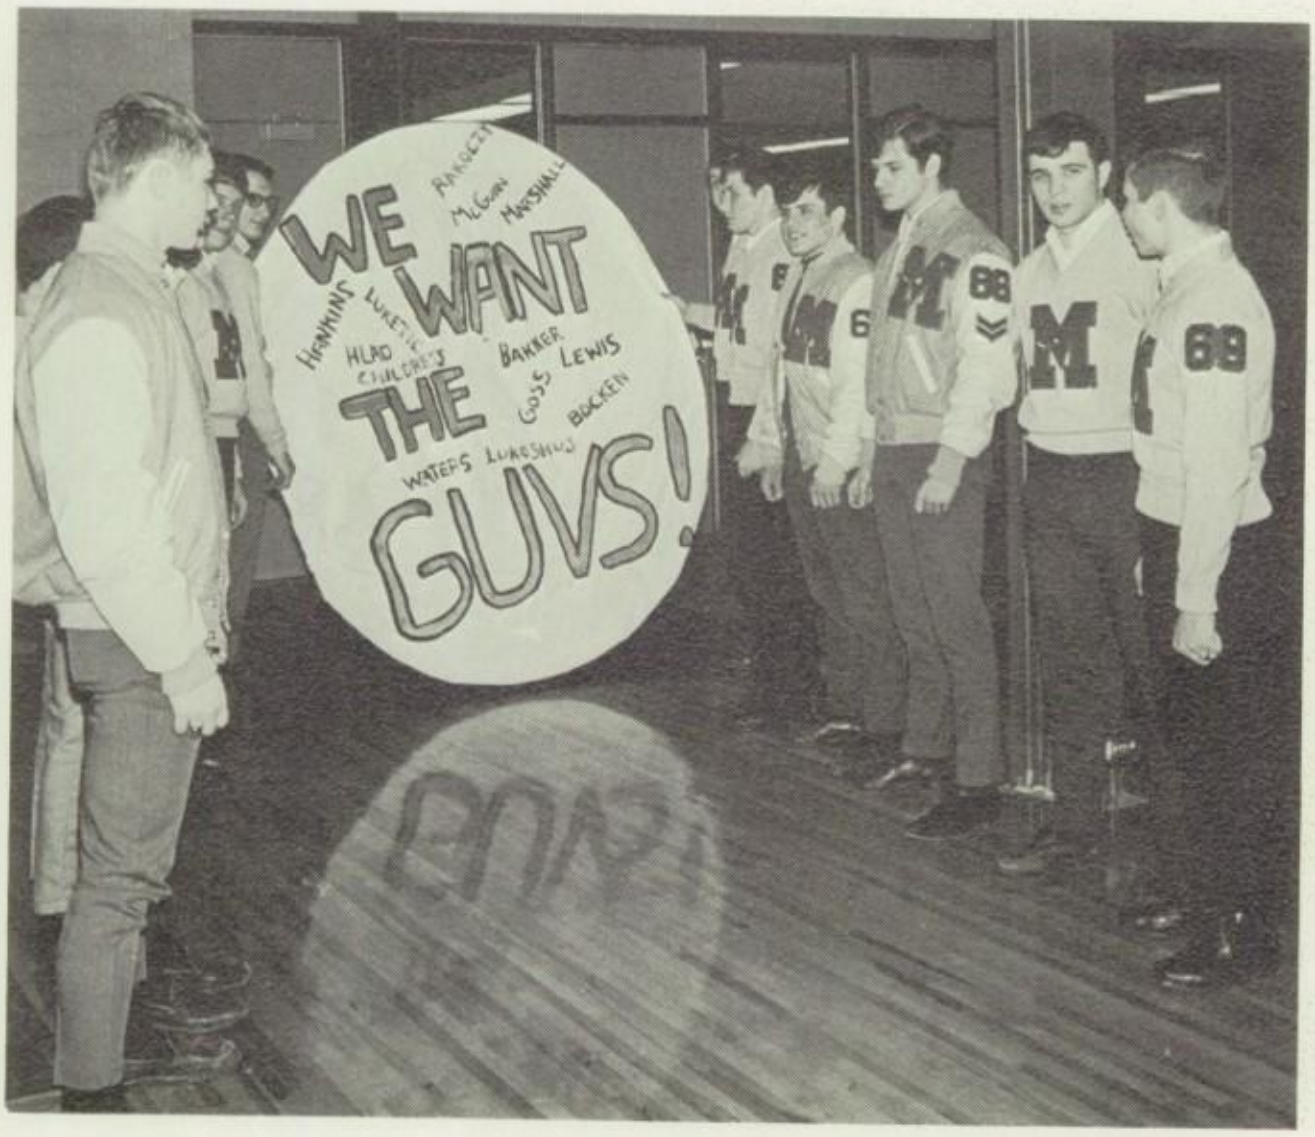
In order to raise money for athletic equipment, Morton's M-Club promoted the sale of red and gray stocking caps. The sale was so successful that an additional 250 caps were ordered to meet the demands of the student body. Lettermen attended all home sporting events wearing either letter sweaters or jackets. To keep order during basketball games, M-Club posted boys in various areas of the gym. Their responsibilities were to sweep and rope off the court. Lettermen also participated in pre-game activities, such as forming victory lines and holding the hoop. At the end of the year the organization purchased pictures of outstanding athletes to hang in the Morton athletic "Hall of Fame."

To increase its size, Booster Club sponsored a drive to recruit new and interested students. As a result last year's membership was doubled. For the first time boys became members. Males encouraged school spirit by aiding cheerleaders in chants. In addition to the annual football and basketball dances, Booster Club organized an August hop to raise capital.

Cape section, which was officially organized last year, also increased in number. Two rows were added, making a total of 120 girls. The cape section chairman and cheerleaders instructed the cheer block on new formations and cheers performed at home games.



ANXIOUSLY AWAITING the entrance of the roundballers into the gym, Morton's lettermen hold the victory hoop.

Performers Display Abilities at Games

Judges, representing students and faculty, selected a new organization, Pom pon girls, to arouse school spirit. Summer practice sessions allowed the girls to prepare dance routines for the upcoming football season. The group sponsored bake sales, car washes and a Christmas candle sale, raising enough money to provide 50 female students with red and gray pom pons. To keep up with the current style, uniforms consisted of white knee-high boots and red mini outfits. Pom pon girls worked daily on various routines performed at home basketball games. Members of the organization are upperclassmen who maintained "C" averages.

Competing in the Northern Indiana twirling contest, held in Goshen, Indiana, Varsity, B-team twirlers and Flag girls won first place medals. To modernize their appearance, the majorettes designed new uniforms. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Melton, frequent practices aided the twirlers in learning new routines and improving rhythm. The majorettes demonstrated their talents during half-time of athletic events. Performances were alternated with those of the Pom pon girls. The 26 twirlers and Flag girls participated in the Christmas, Memorial Day and Halloween parades.

to Highlight Season

Under the direction of Head Coach Maurey Zlotnik, the varsity gridmen completed their first full season on the new field with a 3-5-2 record. Against Hammond school teams, however, the Governors established a 1-1-2 record. The season was highlighted by a 20-13 upset victory over the Hammond Tech Tigers.

Against Clark, E.C. Roosevelt and Whiting, "Big Red" led in the final period, but lost in the closing minutes of play. A temporary setback came in the game with Clark, when the Pioneers scored the winning touchdown with 49 seconds remaining to play.

Morton tied their homecoming game against Gavit. The Governors thus retained the distinction of never being defeated by the Gladiators in football.

In the final two games Morton's defense went to work, holding opponents to a total of 13 points. The defensive team stopped Hammond High in an effort that resulted in a scoreless tie. The varsity squad terminated the season defeating Horace Mann.

Primarily for his defensive play, Mike Mazur was selected as the most valuable player. Jim Dodson was awarded the distinction of honorary team captain.

Tennis Team Benefits from Experience

Gleaming white uniforms dotted Morton's new tennis courts as the courtmen displayed their athletic ability. Morton's varsity netmen compiled an 8-3 record during the 1968 season under the direction of Coach Ed Musselman. Winning two out of their first four meets, the tennis squad strove to improve their previous year's record. During their next seven meets the tennis team finished with six more triumphs, bringing their second season to a successful conclusion.

Competing in the singles events, a game between two individuals of opposing teams, were Mike Argadine, Martin Buechley and Bill Bardoczi. Dave Alexander and Joe Bardoczi composed the first doubles team and performed during the regular season of play. Two members of each team participated in the doubles.

In the sectionals, held at Harrison Park and Hammond Tech, Morton's singles players suffered first round defeats to Hammond High. However, Morton's hopes were kept alive by Dave Alexander and Martin Buechley, who defeated Hammond Tech and E.C. Roosevelt in rounds one and two of the doubles events. The Governors lost round three to Crown Point.

Thirteen boys completed the tennis season with the team and seven courtmen received letters. Members of the team selected Mike Argadine as the most valuable player and Bill Bardoczi as the team captain.

LIFTED IN FLIGHT on the way for two points, guard Roger Hankins eyes the basket for his delivery despite his opposition.

Higher goals were attained by the varsity cagers this year as they compiled a 7-12 record. The roundballers were handicapped with a height disadvantage in most games. By following the strategic coaching of Mr. Joe DePeugh the team tried to overcome this problem with sharp passing and outside shooting.

After losing to Highland by one point in the season opener, the squad absorbed two more losses before registering their initial win over Griffith. Morton lost its final two games before the East Chicago Holiday Tourney to Gary Froebel and Calumet. In the tournament games the Governors were defeated by highly rated E.C. Washington and Terre Haute Gerstmeyer.

Surging forward after the tournament play, the Morton cagers won five of seven games. The squad conquered the opposing teams from Gary Wirt, Hobart, arch-rival Gavit and Gary Lew Wallace. Sandwiched between two overtime victories over Hammond High and Clark was a Governor loss to Whiting. The final two games of the season were lost to E.C. Washington and Hammond Tech, the latter by three points.

Morton Loses Sectional Bout to Oilers

While trying to avenge their regular season loss to Whiting, the Morton Governors challenged the Oilers at the Civic Center in the opening round of the Hammond Sectionals. The squad had worked long hours in training to prepare for the approaching game.

Trailing at the end of the first period, 18-15, the Morton roundballers attempted to take the lead before half-time by scoring 15 more points. At the end of the first half the squad was at a two point deficit, 31-29. The game continued to be a close contest through the third period with Whiting leading 47-44.

In the last period Whiting scored 29 points to Morton's 15. This ended the team's hopes of a sectional victory. The final score was 76-59.

Wayne Bocken led the team with 15 points. Phil Goss and Mike Marshall added 14 and 12 points, respectively. The squad's most valuable player, Roger Hankins, injured an ankle earlier in the week and was able to play only half of the game. He scored 7 points.

Tankmen Develop Better Speed, Form;

This season the Morton swimming squad compiled a 2-7 record under Coach Bob Hunt's direction. The Governor splashers were paced by their veteran swimmers this year. The new recruits gained experience in the second year of competition in the new natatorium.

In Morton's first two meets of the season they were defeated by two well established swimming teams, Hammond High and Hammond Tech. However, neither deficit of these contests exceeded six points. The splashers then suffered two more setbacks against Hammond High and Horace Mann before gaining their initial victory against the Whiting swimming squad.

After being beaten in their following three meets, the swimming team was able to bounce back to terminate the season with a victory. They defeated Lew Wallace for their final win of the season.

Being victorious in the butterfly event many times during the year warranted Don Horvath the distinction of the team's most valuable swimmer. The team selected as one co-captain Kevin Barnes, who competed in the breast stroke event. Dennis Summers, a member of the 400-yd. relay and a competitor in the 100-yd. freestyle, was named as the other co-captain.

Other swimmers who made major contributions toward the team's success were senior Kevin Brennan, sophomore Ed Sharpe and freshman Dave Misanik.

Wrestlers Upset Rivals Gavit, Portage;

Again this season the Morton varsity wrestling squad attained a successful record. Under the direction of Coach Bob Gollner and Assistant Coach Fred Kepler, the team completed their regular season play with a record of ten victories against only one defeat.

In the initial portion of the season, the Governor wrestlers defeated E.C. Washington, Hammond High and Gavit, holding these three opponents to under 20 points each. At this point in the '68-'69 wrestling season the Governor grapplers confronted E.C. Roosevelt, losing to them by a four point margin.

Following this setback the wrestlers combined their efforts for five consecutive wins; four of which were won with margins exceeding 30 points. During this winning streak Morton's opponents were Hammond Tech, Bishop Noll, Whiting, Clark and Gary Andrean.

To arrive at their 10-1 record the Governor grapplers completed their season's efforts with wins over undefeated Portage and Gary Tolleston. At the end of the season the Governors averaged 32 points in contrast to their opponents 13 points per meet.

Gaining recognition as co-captains this season were seniors Tom Bevill and Jim Dodson. Senior Terry Broach was selected as the team's most valuable player.

First Soccer Team Compiles 2-2 Record;

With the completion of the new athletic facilities at Morton High, three new sports have been organized to bring more boys into the athletic program. One of these recently formed sports is soccer. Under the direction of Coach Bob Hunt, the soccer team emerged from their premiere season with a 2-2 record.

All games were played on Edison Field. In Morton's first attempt to win a soccer game they were foiled by Gavit, due to three second-half goals scored by the Gladiators. However, the team came back in its second game to defeat Clark by one goal. They also beat Hammond Tech by two goals in their final game after losing the preceding contest to Hammond High.

Having only one graduating senior on the squad, the majority of the players returned for competition this year. Mr. Hunt has high hopes that these returning players can win the '69 city championship.

Coach Hunt had strong team balance and good depth in all positions to work with in '68. The team's overall strength included offensive players D. Horvath and F. Willison who together scored five goals.

Trackmen Demonstrate Skills in Events,

Placing high in 11 of the 18 meets held last year, the Governor varsity cindermen attempted to capture a noble position in the conference standings. The team won a sixth place in the Conference Division Playoffs and placed eleventh in the Conference Finals.

Although the entire team was responsible for the points won during the meets, the highlight of the season was the long jump. Rudy Skorupa not only tied the school record of 22-ft. 7-in. but placed first in the sectionals. He also won second place in the regionals. The skill shown by Skorupa during the season qualified him for the state meet. In the Hoosier finals at Indianapolis he gained a seventh place.

Two players earned titles for the season. Rick Bates was chosen as captain and Rudy Skorupa was selected as the squad's most valuable player.

Along with the nine returning lettermen will be six additional upperclassmen for competition this year. Head Coach Nick Luketic and Assistant Fred Kepler will also direct approximately 30 underclassmen.

Looking forward to a successful season, the track coaches are hopeful that the returning players will lead the team to many victories. Some of the returning lettermen include the mile-relay team of W. Lukoshus, B. Luketic, B. Zbikowski and R. Skorupa, 220 runner J. Ziemba and poll-vaulter T. Broach.

RUNNING HARD to maintain his lead over an E.C. Washington opponent, sophomore Gary Hallum sprints toward the finish line.

Baseball Team Composes 14-8 Record,

Starting the season with a nine game winning streak and securing five more wins during the remainder of the season, the Governor baseball team posted a 14-8 record. Led by Head Coach Jack Georgas and Assistant Greg Jancich, the baseballers attempted to surpass the 13-6 record compiled the previous year.

By scoring a total of 79 runs during the first nine games of the year, compared to their opponents total of 14 runs, the Morton squad figuratively crushed their opposition. However, during the latter part of the season the baseball team met with difficulty as they lost seven games while winning only four.

In the E.C. Tournament the team defeated E.C. Roosevelt in the opening round at Block Stadium. The second game, however, eliminated Morton from the tournament when they were upset by E.C. Washington.

Pitcher Stan Perzanowski and shortstop Jim Baasse signed professional contracts with the Chicago White Sox and the Houston Astros, respectively. Team members chose senior outfielder John Costa as their captain for the '68 season. Jim Baasse earned the honor of being selected as the team's most valuable player.

Yell Leaders' New Outfits 'Up-to-Date'

Making the Governors "tops" in school spirit was the main goal of the Morton cheerleading squads. To obtain this the Varsity cheerleaders attended a summer camp at Vincennes University. The girls were taught several new cheers at the annual session.

To raise money, the Varsity sold "Gov" pins at the annual pre-school pep rally in the fall. They also had bake sales to boost their funds. With the money they earned they purchased a megaphone for each member of the Varsity squad. They also made pantskirts and v-neck vests to modernize their outfits.

For the first time the B-Team cheerleaders cheered at Varsity football games. The B-Team cheering squad was placed alongside of the crowd to help the Varsity in leading the yells more efficiently.

During the summer bake sales were held to obtain money to purchase needed uniforms for the B-Team. With the funds received new box-pleated skirts and red pantskirt jumpers were purchased by the girls.

Freshman cheerleaders were unable to cheer during football season due to tryouts being held too late in the fall. However, after learning cheering techniques they performed for the basketball season.

B-TEAM CHEERLEADERS— FRONT ROW: Donna Hilty, Sue Hatfield. SECOND ROW: Laura Skorupa, Marie Simms, Carole Bertagnolli (Capt.). In addition to new cheers, more difficult mounts were used.

SPIRITED YELLS, designed to create enthusiasm, are led by the varsity squad during a lull in the game. The varsity cheerleaders were a part of all football and basketball games. Leading chants and yells to encourage team morale was an important duty.

ALBUM

UP, UP, AND AWAY went Album. The freshman class was the largest in Morton's history, thus, the faculty staff increased. As new faces arrived and old faces disappeared, the building thrived on the growing spirit.

Officers Preside over Executive Board,

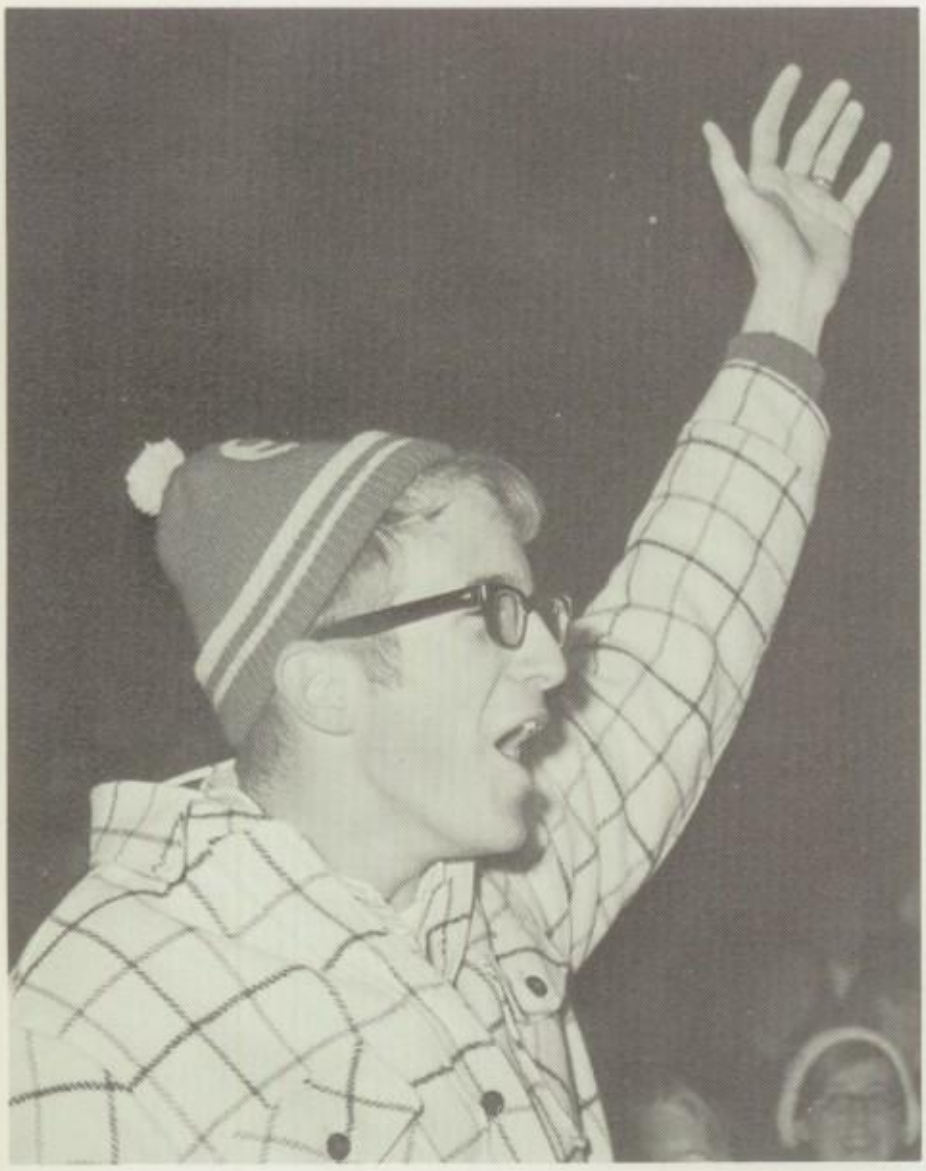

EXHIBITING CLASS ENTHUSIASM, Senior Class President Mike Argadine stands and cheers during competition yell, "Battle Cry."

Mailing graduation announcements was one of the final activities for seniors. Executive board members helped students order announcements and name cards.

Identified by their apricot and rust cords, seniors sponsored dances, selected the Homecoming Court and attended Morton sports events. The Inaugural Ball, Cupid's Concerto and the Junior-Senior Prom were among the important affairs shared by the class of '69.

Homecoming this year was highlighted by a parade of more than 90 decorated cars and a revival of the traditional floats. The senior float entitled "Skunk 'Em" was awarded the first place trophy during the half-time ceremonies. Seniors also won the "Spirit Stick," a mythical award for the most spirited class.

Seniors planned and prepared for future ambitions by pursuing either a basic or an academic course. While some seniors took college entrance exams, others ventured out to acquire jobs corresponding with their personal interests and goals for the coming years.

Under the guidance of the class sponsors, Mrs. Beth Stier and Mr. Robert Owczarzak, the annual Senior Banquet was held on May 22 at the Log, where awards were presented to class leaders for their outstanding efforts during the past year. The class sponsors also helped the seniors in carrying out final preparations for Commencement and Baccalaureate.

Baccalaureate took place in the auditorium June 1. Graduation, held on June 4 in the gymnasium, brought to a close years of unforgettable memories.

Juniors Choose Officers to Guide Class

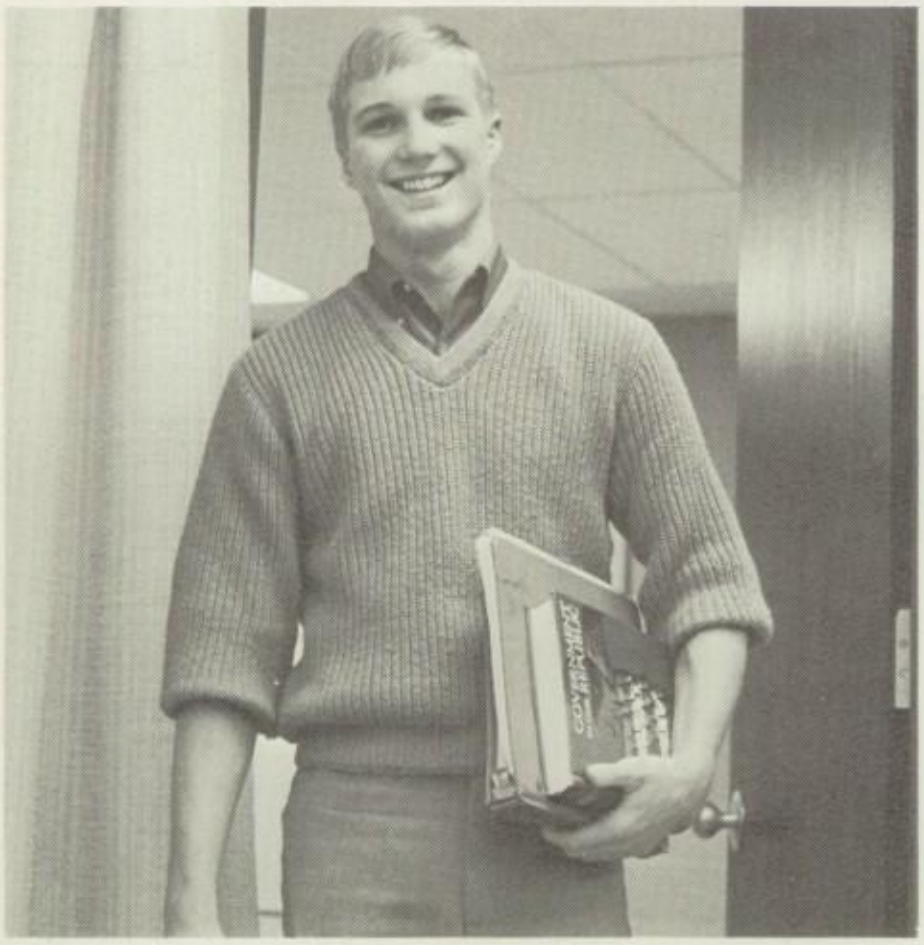
FORMULATING PLANS for the annual Junior-Senior Prom with members of executive board is Junior Class President Wes Lukoshus.

Preparing for their first year as upperclassmen, juniors elected officers to lead the class of '70. These officers along with the sponsors, Miss Jacqueline Martine and Mr. Robert Welte, worked with the executive board making decisions concerning the class.

Choosing representatives to serve on the junior executive board was one of the foremost duties of the class of '70. At the meetings held before school, members made plans and preparations for the traditional Junior-Senior Prom. Decorated in Japanese style to stress the oriental theme, "Far Eastern Fantasy," couples danced to the music of Hal Morris and his band from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

"Guys Won't Wear Off as the Game Wears On," chosen as the theme of the float, occupied extra time of juniors for a month. Members of the class made over 10,000 tissue flowers to cover a seven foot football player and a can of deodorant that expelled smoke.

In spirit competition held among the classes during sectional week, juniors captured a first place trophy. Individual classes were judged on the amount of spirit shown at the pep assembly and sectional game. Graduates of 1970 also placed second in sign competition. Members of the class worked for a week making posters to hang in the halls to boost the team.



ANXIOUS TO WORK, Junior Class Vice-President Bob Kuhn enters an executive board meeting full of new suggestions.

ATTENTIVE AND PREPARED to take minutes at an executive board meeting is Junior Class Secretary Jean Flickinger.

FACED WITH THE RESPONSIBILITIES of sophomore secretary, Marie Simms considers future problems the class will encounter.

POSTING AN ANNOUNCEMENT to inform sophomores of forthcoming class activities is Vice-President Susan Hatfield.

Second-Year Students Choose Officers

With a year of experience behind them, sophomores found it easier to adapt to high school life. By participating in academic as well as social activities, sophs expanded their scope of interests.

Capturing the award for the best decorated car in the Homecoming Parade was one of the highlights of the year for the sophomore class. An Aladdin's Lamp that spewed out smoke was attached to the top of the winning car and depicted the theme, "Rub 'Em Out."

Ranking first place in the Community Chest Drive was another distinguishing trait of the sophomores. This year the drive was held in November and all students were urged to contribute any extra money. A contest was held among all the classes, and at the end of the drive Mr. Kurteff announced that the sophomore class had donated the largest amount of money.

Members of the Class of '71 also procured the first three honors in the 22nd Annual Voice of Democracy Contest. All Hammond students, in grades ten through twelve, were eligible to participate in this program. A committee of judges listened to the entries, written and recorded speeches, and then evaluated them on the basis of content, originality and delivery. Acknowledgment of these students took place in a February assembly when their awards were distributed.

SMILING WITH RELIEF after completing various plans pertaining to the sophomore class is President Barbara Vanes.

Freshmen Select Leaders to Represent

During their initial year as high school students freshmen had the advantage of size. This class was the largest ever to be enrolled at Morton. Not only did they participate in the various school organizations but each homeroom elected two representatives to attend association meetings and voice frosh opinions.

Electing officers and choosing green as their class color were some of the foremost duties of the freshman class. The officers helped their class to receive second place honors during spirit week.

Graduates of 1972 were also active in homecoming festivities. Although the freshmen were unable to vote for a queen candidate, a boy and a girl were selected to present the flowers and crown to her.

Throughout the year, freshmen attended the various dances and games sponsored by the school. The freshman girls showed their athletic abilities by participating in the annual Booster Club basketball game. A class king and queen were crowned at the traditional Cupid's Concerto sponsored by the Government Club.

Principal Returns for Second Semester

AS OVERSEER of school programs, Principal W. Winston Becker directs faculty meetings, approves club activities and handles all Morton's administrative problems.

Striving for a doctorate in secondary education, Principal William Winston Becker attended Indiana University for the fall semester. During Mr. Becker's absence, Vice-Principal George Kurteff fulfilled the responsibilities of principal. A new position, Dean of Students, was occupied by Mr. Walter Ruff.

By visiting classes, Principal Becker and Vice-Principal Kurteff evaluated the faculty's teaching methods. Acting as a median between the guidance staff and the teachers, a committee was appointed. Composed of one teacher from each department, this committee discussed counseling policies with the counselors.

As speech therapist, Miss Karen Shanta specialized in teaching students to enunciate correctly by means of tape recording devices. The recordings were replayed to the pupils to enable them to hear the sound of their voices. Under the Child Welfare and Attendance Program, Mrs. Eileen Kruger visited homes of students to learn about their environment.

Newly elected member to the Hammond School Board is Mr. A. Kuhn. Dr. O. Rapp will retire this June after his third year as superintendent.

RESUMING THE JOB of assistant principal during the second semester, Mr. George Kurteff has the responsibility of planning a faculty schedule for the coming school year.

DEAN OF STUDENTS Mr. Walter Ruff directs students in grooming and behavior, according to official school code. He also supervises detentions, checks absences and curbs truancy.

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS— SEATED: Mr. A. Kuhn, vice-president, Mrs. C. Stern, president, Mr. E. Hudson, secretary. STANDING: Dr. H. Eggers, Mr. R. Potesta, Dr. O. Rapp, superintendent.

An opportunity to serve awaits industrious young men and women at Northern Indiana Public Service Company. As one of the top gas and electric distribution utilities in the United States, NIPSCO is constantly looking for new processes and methods of efficient operation. These include atomic power generation, extra high voltage transmission, underground electric distribution, computerized system planning, underground storage of natural gas, community analyses and electronic data processing.

Ready to grow with a growing company?

IN AN ATMOSPHERE OF GROWTH

NIPSCO is one of the highest-paying utilities in the State of Indiana. Its attractive employe benefit package—tuition refund plan, vacations, holidays, life insurance, comprehensive medical insurance, pensions, etc.—provides an atmosphere for individual growth. Fifteen leading colleges and universities are strategically located throughout its service area with others available in the greater Chicago area. Drop in. We'll be glad to talk jobs with you.

Dear Governors:

In the second year at the new Morton Senior High students have reaped additional benefits with the completion of facilities. Such factors as better equipped rooms of adequate size with sufficient lighting aided instruction and learning.

The staff and I have tried to show how this year has gone Up, Up, and Away. We hope you have enjoyed the trip.

Sincerely,

Chris Czlonka
